Deals To Rule Germany Still Facing Snags

New York, April 29 (AP) — Representatives of the United States and Russia will meet here at 4 p. m. (3 p. m., EST) today on the Berlin blockade question.

The meeting will be in the Soviet headquarters on Upper Park avenue between Philip C. Jessup, U. S. ambassador-at-large, and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jakob A. Malik.

Today's meeting was requested by Malik. This may mean the Soviet representative has received a written reply from Moscow to a request which Jessup made Wednesday for a formal declaration of Russia's position on lifting the blockade.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, April 29 (AP) — Diplomatic authorities said today that great difficulties lie in the way of full agreement between Russia and the western powers on the unification and joint control of all Germany.

They took this view despite hope for an early end to the Russian blockade of Berlin.

Official statements, including Secretary Acheson's speech in New York last night, are making it increasingly clear that without basic policy changes by Russia, the East-West split in Germany cannot be closed. So far there is no evidence that such policy changes are in prospect.

The talks held to date by American Ambassador Philip Jessup and Deputy Soviet Foreign Minister Jakob Malik are reported to have dealt only with the problem of lifting the blockade and arranging a meeting of the council of foreign ministers—but not with what the foreign ministers might accomplish.

The fact is that Washington officials regard the possible meeting as a testing ground of the ability of Russia and the American-British-French bloc to reach any constructive agreement. Possible abolition of the blockade is anticipated here as a western victory in a single battle of a continuing cold war.

Insofar as the opportunity for Russia and the western powers to meet is concerned, the lifting of the blockage would restore the situation to about what it was a year ago before the Soviets sought to isolate Berlin.

At that time the western powers served notice they would not negotiate so long as the Russians held a pistol to their heads; now the Russians may be ready to lay the pistol down.

CRITICIZED — Sen. Raymond E. Baldwin of Connecticut, above, outspoken leader of the GOP liberal wing in Congress, is under criticism from his Republican colleagues for his decision to quit the Senate in December to accept appointment to the Connecticut Supreme Court. He was appointed by Gov. Chester Bowles, Democrat.

Tom Dewey Hankers For Another Shot At The White House

By HENRY LEADER

Albany, N. Y., April 29 (AP) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who bit the dust twice in running for president, nurses a deep-down desire for another shot at the White House.

This came out today when an unimpeachable source thoroughly familiar with Dewey's views disclosed that the 1944 and 1948 Republican standard bearer, contrary to frequent reports, has not decided to return to private life when his gubernatorial terms ends Dec. 31, 1950.

Neither has the governor decided to try to continue in public life beyond that date.

In short, he has not made up his mind. He won't until he has to.

Close friends insist—and Dewey does not deny—that the presidential bug still is in his system.

Vacation In Europe

The governor sails next Thursday for a six-week European trip that could serve as a springboard for a bid for the Senate seat held by the aging Democratic Senator Robert F. Wagner.

The term of Wagner, who has been ill for long time, expires at the end of next year. There have been recurring rumors that Wagner would resign before July 8, which would permit a contest for his seat in the general election next November. There also have been as many reports that he will stay on until the end of his term.

If Wagner quit after July 8, Dewey could resign as governor, and his successor, Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hanley, could appoint him to succeed Wagner. Then Dewey presumably would be the GOP candidate in November, 1950, for a full six-year term.

Dewey's European trip is billed as a vacation jaunt. But it will be more than that. The mere fact that his office released a detailed intinerary, as it did on his "vacation" tour of the west two years ago, indicates to the knowing that it will not be all rest and play.

He has been deluged with invitations to speak. He is expected to make a few-off-the-record addresses.

Mrs. Dewey and the governor's secretary, Paul E. Lockwood, will accompany him.

Revolt Of Democrats Slows Up Legislature

IN SHANGHAI — George St. Louis, formerly of Escanaba and a brother of Stanley St. Louis of this city, is in charge of a staff of 18 Americans and 49 others employed at the ECA mission in Shanghai, now facing invasion by Chinese Communist troops. The mission of the Economic Cooperation administration continues to assist Shanghai with American aid goods, including food and petroleum supplies.

St. Louis was employed in the early 40s with the War Food Administration in New York City. He joined the staff of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration in the fall of 1944 and went to Greece. Later, he became a member of the ECA mission staff in China.

Communists May Seal Off Shanghai

By FRED HAMPSON

Shanghai, April 29 (AP)—Communist troops today seized Wuhing, a key point 40 miles north of Hangchow, the main prop for Shanghai.

Wuhing, is 36 miles west of Kashing, control point on the Shanghai-Hangchow railroad.

Kashing, 62 miles southwest of Shanghai, was in the path of a Red column driving south from Soochow (Wuhsien).

A Nationalist communique said a Red drive on Shanghai appeared to be a move to protect the flank of the southbound columns.

It asserted the force coming from the West had been checked about 37 miles west of the metropolis near Kunshan, on the Shanghai-Nanking railway. Trains to Kunshan had quit running.

The Shanghai garrison reported the captors of Wuhing now were advancing south toward Hangchow. It earlier had reported the Communist 23rd army was operating in this region.

It appears that the main Red push is aimed now at Hangchow, not Shanghai. With the capture of Hangchow, Shanghai would be sealed off by land.

This could mean that an attack on Shanghai will be delayed.

The garrison said the Reds were headed toward Wukang, 25 miles northwest of Hangchow.

The communique quoted Red prisoners as saying Communist troops who crossed the Yangtze had only three days rations and were without supply stations.

The garrison charged the Communists were looting the countryside in occupied areas, searching for food.

Vice Admiral Oscar C. Badger, commander of the Western Pacific fleet, said U. S. navy forces would be retained at Woosung as long as needed "in the safe evacuation of American Nationals from Shanghai." Woosung is some 10 miles from Shanghai where the Whangpoo flows into the Yangtze.

Governor Williams Backs Minority In Filibuster Scheme

Solons Fighting Mad As Pet Bills Perish

By JAMES A. O. CROWE

Lansing, April 29 (AP)—Governor Williams today stood solidly behind his Democratic bloc in the House as open warfare broke out between Republicans and Democrats.

The tightly-knit group of 39 Democratic representatives brought the legislative operation almost to a standstill, forcing the House members to slug their way through hours of parliamentary maneuvering until 2 a. m. today.

House Shows Speed

After a conference with the Democrats, Williams said the semi-filibuster was their own idea but "I am in full accord with it."

"Alil they are trying to do," Williams said, "is to get consideration of the administration program. They feel they are being entirely reasonable. They are not trying to axe any Republican legislation or to get anyone to vote against their conscience."

How long the Democratic delaying action would last, depends Williams said, on how reasonable the Republicans are in giving consideration to administraton bills.

The House rolled at express train speed yesterday afternoon, advancing more than 60 bills for final vote. While this was going on, however, the state affairs committee voted to kill all fair employment practices legislation.

This apparently was all the Democrats could take.

Following a supper recess, the closed caucus was held, and the minority emerged tearing mad.

Deadline Friday

The Republican majority earlier had insisted on its own watered down version of unemployment compensation increases, repeatedly refused to repeal the old age assistance "lien law" and has showed no interest in the governor's proposed four per cent corporation income tax.

"The Republicans have no trouble getting their bills through," said one Democrat. "Maybe if we make our weight felt, they'll let us get some of ours."

The Democrats sought to snarl up the works so that the heavy calendar of House bills could not be passed by Friday, the deadline if the legislature is to adjourn May 20. In exchange for passing some of their bills, they would have called off the filibuster.

By parliamentary moves, they blocked advancing the bills for votes, insisted that all bills be read in full, spoke at great length on all bills, and kept the House in a turmoil.

Sigler-Roth Scrap Heads For Courts

Mt. Clemens, Mich., April 29 (AP)—The slam-bang battle over Kim Sigler's return as a special prosecutor raged its tangled way toward the courts today.

The first showdown apparently was set for Monday, when Circuit Judge Paul Cash of Alma is scheduled to hear Attorney General Roth's petition, to bar the former governor from the prosecuting job.

Another, and bigger, showdown may be coming May 10. The state supreme court yesterday indicated it would rule then on a second Roth petition, this one asking the high court to back him in his efforts to oust Sigler.

Almost lost in the legal maze was the fact that Sigler originally was hired by Judge Cash to prosecute former State Senator Ivan A. Johnston on a bribery charge.

Sigler, however, apparently was still going ahead with his plans to act in the case. Yesterday he returned to Macomb county officials the Johnston case files.

These had been the source of a legal dispute, with his petition to the court asking the tribunal to bar Sigler, Roth also asked the court to force Sigler to turn over the Johnston files.

But when Sigler returned the papers, he explained quickly that he did so "not because of anything Mr. Roth had done or said, but simply because I am through with them."

At the same time Sigler aimed a legal crossfire at Roth's petition. He asked the Macomb county circuit court to set aside the intervention in the case by the attorney general's office.

Judge Cash is scheduled to rule on that one Monday as well.

Oaths And Curses Jolt British Radio

Art Banquet Arguments Bring Salty Language

London, April 29 (AP)—Britons tuned to the staid BBC were shocked to hear oaths and curses suddenly come hurtling out of the ether last night.

The occasion?

A broadcast of the first dinner of the royal academy since the war—an event expected to be as sedate as a temperance tea.

But the diners — who included Winston Churchill, the Archbishop of Canterbury and Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery — got involved in an argument on modern art.

Retiring President Sir Alfred Munnings, 69, said modern painters were daubers who "cannot paint a tree to look like a tree." He went on to make slighting cracks about French modernists Pablo Picasso and Henry Matisse.

Outraged supporters of the modern painters shouted, banged on tables and yelled language which is banned from the air all over the world.

The BBC said later some 40 listeners called to protest but 14 others said they were "delighted."

Sir Alfred, to emphasize his distaste for Picasso, told of walking one day with Mr. Churchill:

"Mr. Churchill said to me 'Alfred, if we saw Picasso coming down this street towards us, would you join me in kicking hard a certain part of him?'

"I said 'by God, Winston, I would.' "

Federal Aid Sought For School Health

Strong Backing Given $60,00,000 Program

By JOHN CHADWICK

Washington, April 29 (AP)—A bill to give the states $35,000,000 a year in federal funds for school health programs went before the Senate today with strong bi-partisan backing.

Chairman Elbert D. Thomas (D-Utah) of the Senate labor and public welfare committee predicted the bill would pass without difficulty. Senator Taft of Ohio and other Republican sponsors also expressed confidence of Senate approval.

The major purpose of the bill is to aid the states in providing regular medical and dental examinations for children 5 through 17 years old, in public, private and parochial schools.

Funds would be allotted to the states on the basis of their financial need and the number of their school children.

Contributions also would have to be made by the states—one-fourth the federal grant for the poorer states, and running up to an equal amount for the wealthiest ones.

Thomas' committee reported that full participation by the states would require them to spend at least $25,000,000, making a minimum state-federal program of $60,000,000.

Under present plans, the health bill will be followed by a companion measure which would provide $300,000,000 annually in federal funds to help the states pay teachers' salaries and other school operating expenses.

Highway Tax Boost Shelved In Lansing

One-Cent Gasoline Levy Buried In Committee

Lapsing, April 29 (AP) — There will be no highway tax increases this year, the legislature decided yesterday.

The last of the Michigan Good Roads Federation's $38,000,000-a year tax increase program and plans for a general revision of highway administrative laws was buried in a hostile Senate committee.

This was the one-cent a gallon gas tax increase which had been battled through a wavering House during the day. It was all that was left of six bills sponsored by the federaiion after an 18-month study of highway needs.

Senate supporters of the tax increase made a last desperate effort to save something from the wreckage.

They hoped to put the House-approved one-cent increase in the friendly Senate Highway Committee, but the chamber overruled the chairman and shoved it into the taxation committee by an 18 to 13 vote.

The vote was considered, even by supporters of the bill, as a final test of Senate sentiment on the increase.

The Taxation Committee was known to be hostile to the tax increases. The night before it had killed similar increase bills in its own hands.

The federation had proposed a 15-year highway construction program based on a 1.3 cent a gallon gas tax increase and a sliding increase in weight (license) taxes.

Bank Loans Spurred By Federal Reserve

Extra $1,200,000,000 Is Available For Lending

By CHARLES MOLONY

Washington, April 29 (AP)—Effective next week, the 7,000 banks of the Federal Reserve System will have an extra $1,200,000,000 available for lending.

Financial experts said today that is enough to give the lagging economy a powerful "shot in the arm"—provided bankers and potential borrowers want to take risks.

A Federal Reserve board order was responsible. It empowers the banks to lend the money by cuting $1,200,000,000 off the amount they were required to have in non-lendable reserves.

The motive of making lending easier was made plain. The board itself, in announcing the order last night, stressed that loans by these banks have dropped $1,500,000,000 since the start of this year.

An increase in loans—notably loans to business, which have fallen farther and faster in 1949 than any year on record — would counter recent deflationary effects reflected in lower prices, production, sales and employment.

The availability of the extra funds—more than double the total lendable funds on hand at these banks as of Wednesday—is expected to give lenders a "psychological" lift, affording them a bigger cash margin and an incentive to get a return on the money.

Hudson Co. Asks Action By Truman In Bendix Strike

Detroit, April 29 (AP)—The Hudson Motor Car company today appealed to President Truman for intervention in a 10-day strike at Bendix Aviation Corp., in South Bend, Ind.

The Bendix firm supplies brakes to the auto industry. The South Bend strike by United Auto Workers (CIO) already has resulted in shutdowns of three major auto producers, Packard, Kaiser-Frazer and Nash.

Hudson likewise will be forced to close indefinitely if the supplier strike continues, the company told President Truman in a telegram signed by Stewart G. Baits, Hudson vice president. This would throw an additional 25,000 persons out of work and boost the Bendix idle total to 60,000.

Railroad Engineers May Strike May 11

Second Man On Diesel Is Walkout Issue

Chicago, April 29 (AP)—A strike on May 11 by some 25,000 railroad engineers against 15 western carriers appeared possible today.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers paved the way for the walkout yesterday by rejecting a presidential fact finding board's recommendation. The board on April 11 denied the union's demand for a second engineer on multiple unit diesel locomotives.

Under terms of the National Railway Labor Act the engineers can strike on May 11, although a union official said "a strike is not the only alternative." He indicated the union might be agreeable to further negotiations with the railroads.

Railroads which are threatened by the strike are the Illinois Central; Santa Fe; Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific; Chicago and North Western; Chicago, Burlington and Quincy; Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific; Great Northern; Missouri Pacific; Texas and Pacific; Northern Pacific; Union Pacific; Southern Pacific; Western Pacific; St. Louis and San Francisco, and the Chicago Great Western.

Veterans Repaid On GI Insurance

Washington, April 29 (AP)—Thousands of World War II veterans have been receiving government checks in recent weeks for overpaying on their GI life insurance.

The surprise "bonuses," totaling many thousands of dollars, are an unexpected byproduct of the veterans administration's efforts to start insurance dividend checks rolling by the end of 1949.

The overpayments have shown up by the thousands in connection with the audit of accounts that has been under way for many months in preparation for the declaration of dividend.

Underpayments are being discovered, also. No attempt is being made to collect these amounts due, but they later will be assessed against the dividends.

Kingsford Foundry Ordered To Cease 'Unfair' Practices

Washington, April 29 (AP)—The National Labor Relations board today upheld unfair labor practice charges against the Iron Mountain division of Grede Foundries, Inc., at Kingsford, Mich.

The board ordered the company to "cease and desist" from the alleged practices and to bargain collectively with the CIO United Auto Workers.

It said the management of the Kingsford plant had refused to bargain with the UAW since last June.

The company's headquarters in Milwaukee were not affected by the order.

Slayer of Detroit Boy Examined As Sexual Psychopath

Detroit, April 29 (AP) — Nineteen-year-old Theodore Hilles will not be tried in the slaying of little George (Peanuts) Counter if a sanity commission recommendation is carried out.

The board that examined Hilles asked Recorder's court yesterday to commit the youth as a "criminal sexual psychopath."

Jury Convicts Two In $8,000 Detroit Stolen Fur Deals

Detroit, April 29 (AP)—A jury in federal court yesterday convicted Max Stern of Detroit and Joseph Giordano of Youngstown, Ohio, of transporting $8,000 in stolen furs into Michigan.

At the time of their arrest here in February, 1948, the two were questioned in connection with a rumored plot on the life of hoodlum Harry Fleisher.

Police, however, never were able to establish that there was such a plot.

Since, Fleisher, jumped $40,000 bonds in a Pontiac night club holdup and in an alleged conspiracy against the life of State Sen. Warren G. Hooper, slain graft grand jury witness.

Fleisher is still at large.

Constabulary Hunts Philippine Killers

Ambush Slaying Arouses Anger Around Manila

By SPENCER DAVIS

Manila, April 29 (AP)—An angry constabulary today went gunning in the retreats of the Communist-led Hukbalahaps for the ambush killers of the Philippines' greatest lady and 11 other persons.

The bodies of Mrs. Aurora Quezon, widow of the first president of the Philippines, her daughter, Maria Aurora, 33, and her son-in-law, Felipe Buencamino III, lay in Manila funeral parlors.

Their bodies along with those of four other of the victims were brought down from the north under armored car escort. Thousands of grieving Filipinos visited the parlors.

There was official reluctance to identify the attackers as the armed peasants under Communist command who go by the name of Hukbalahaps.

But Manila newspapers and most citizens agreed with Brig Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, delegate to the United Nations. Stopping in San Francisco, he said he believed the Huks committed the killings.

President Elpidio Quirino blamed bandits. Manila newspapers thought he may have been the object of the ambush. He had planned to join the Quezon party but said at the last minute he was unable to go.

Princess Margaret Goes Bathing, Wants To Be Left Alone

Capri, Italy, April 29 (AP)—Princess Margaret of England did a Garbo today—she said she wanted to be left alone. She went bathing.

Major T. C. Harvey, the British queen's private secretary who is escorting Margaret on her month's vacation in Italy, told reporters:

"We don't want to be followed for once. She'd like to be left alone today.

The Princess has been besieged endlessly by newsmen and photographers since her arrival in Italy Wednesday. She went bathing at the seaside villa of Major Giorgio Cerio.

Coast Line Wreck Kills 3 Trainmen

Manchester, Ga., April 29 (AP)—Three trainmen were killed in an Atlantic Coast Line freight train wreck near Manchester today.

Rescue workers recovered the body of one man. Railroad officials said two others were still trapped in the wreckage.

The officials said the train hit a washout caused by two days of excessive rain. The freight, pulled by a diesel, was en route from Chicago to Miami.

Political Control Of State Prison System Rejected

Lansing, April 29. (AP) — In a sudden switch of sentiment, the senate today defeated the Republican bill to put the Michigan prison the paroles system under a three-man politically - appointed commission.

The bill was rejected by a 10 to 19 vote.

Democrats, who had gone along with the measure on preliminary tests of sentiment yesterday, switched sides today to help defeat it.

Senator Bion L. Bates (R-Ovid) help soften the bill's support with a proposal that a special senate study committee composed of seven men who had sponsored various revisions of the corrections law attempt to draft a "more perfect bill" before next year.

Bates said he had Governor Williams' promise to submit the issue to a special legislative session next year.

Put-In-Bay Returns To Detroit River

Detroit, April 29 (AP)—The familiar steamer Put-in-Bay will sail the Detroit river again this year.

Her new owner, Nicholas M. Constans of Duluth, Minn., announced today that the excursion vessel will make short lake and river cruises this summer.

Constans recently purchased the assets of the Ashley & Dustin steamer lines, which owned the Put-in-Bay. He has operated an excursion boat out of Duluth the last three years.

DOE KILLER JAILED

Allegan (AP) — William Lind landed in jail Thursday mainly because he picked the day of a district conservation officers meeting to kill an illegal doe. A dozen radio-equipped cars helped track him down after the kill was reported. Lind must stay in jail until he pays a $75 fine.

Truce Halts Berlin 'Battle Of Barges'

Berlin, April 29 (AP)— A truce was arranged today in Berlin's "Battle of the Barges."

Two Russian officers who had attempted to halt traffic in the British sector canal locks yesterday and Wednesday returned today and announced they had orders "not to cause any trouble."

British officers said they understood the dispute was being referred to "higher authority" for settlement.

Armed British military police still stood guard on the locks, and barge traffic continued unmolested.

Lumberman Chases Deer Off Airfield In Eastern Oregon

Joseph, Ore., April 29 (AP)—Whenever an airplane starts to land at Joseph's busy little airport, a man on horseback goes lickety-split down the runway to chase away the deer.

The deer dote on the tender shoots of newly planted grass on the field. They have become so used to the planes, they ignore them.

They still react to the horseman, though. He has chased away as many as 39 deer in one day. The field is in the high Wallowa mountains of northeastern Oregon.

Senate Softens Up Michigan Labor Bill

Sugar Maple Rejected As State Tree

Lansing, April 29 (AP) — With the Democrats dragging their feet, the Republican-dominated Senate today passed a softened version of the Bonine-Tripp Labor law.

It cleared the Senate and went to the House by a 21 to 5 vote. five Democrats voted "no" and four others refused to vote, declaring that they were opposed to the principle of the bill and would not even accept a modification of it.

It provides for compulsory fact-finding commissioners to delay strikes or lockouts in public utility and hospital disputes. Gone is the compulsory arbitration provision to which organized labor objected.

The bill also, in another concession to labor, permits strikes to be called after a majority vote of workers voting, rather than by a majority vote of the bargaining unit. Labor had bitterly fought the latter provision.

The Senate defeated a bill to declare the sugar maple the state tree.

FREIGHT TRAINS CRASH

Harrisburg, Pa., April 29 (AP)—A Pennsylvania railroad eastbound freight train crashed into the rear of another freight at nearby Heckton today. No one was injured, the railroad said, although the locomotive of the second train overturned and the caboose it struck caught fire.

SHOCK FATAL

Kalamazoo (AP)—Overcome with the shock of finding her father dead of a stroke, Miss Theresa Meyer, 40, died a short time after him on Thursday. Miss Meyer was an advisor in art and mathematics at Christian High school.

SIXTEEN IDLE IN BUS STRIKE

Escanaba Workers Are Affected

Fourteen bus drivers, one mechanic and an office secretary of the Escanaba Greyhound bus station are idle as a result of the strike of the Amalgamated Street Electric Employes and Motor Coach Operators of the Northland Greyhound lines which began at midnight Wednesday.

Eighteen passengers were enroute near Escanaba when the strike became effective. Money on unused portions of tickets was refunded to them and they were aided in seeking their transportation from the city.

The strike, first since a two-day strike on pension negotiations in 1941, affects 10,000 route miles in the north area from St. Ignace, Mich., to Butte, Mont., Sweet Grass, Mont., Winnipeg, Can., and Sioux City, Iowa, and from Upper Michigan cities to Green Bay, Milwaukee and Chicago.

"A tremendous number of passengers will undoubtedly be affected by the strike," Norman Hanson, agent here, said this morning. "The western cities are connecting links in East - West travel via bus, and lines operating from Butte west will probably carry only a third of the usual passenger load."

Jack Sprague is union steward in Escanaba. Neither he nor Hansen have been informed of any development in negotiations to settle a wage dispute.

The union contract with Northland Greyhound expired last December and since that time a Minnesota facting finding board has been reviewing the case. Last Friday its recommendations were presented and the company accepted but not the union.

Newspaper circulation and some express service was curtailed by the strike. Arrangements have been made with other transportation media. Under laws of the Public Service commission, no other company can take over the routes of the Northland Greyhound during the stirke.

The strike concerns 1,300 employes, including 700 drivers and 600 mechanics, office workers and other non-operating help, in eight states and Manitoba, Canada. Nearly 1,000 communities are served by the Northland division of Greyhound.

The last minute negotiations broke down about three hours before the strike. The drivers are asking for a mileage rate of six and a half cents against six cents, plus allowances for meals and for making daily reports. The company offered 6.35 cents.

James Peterson Wins Bird House Contest With Log Structure

James Peterson, 1520 Washington avenue, won first prize in the city bird house building contest sponsored by the Escanaba recreation department.

Peterson's prize-winning house was a log-cabin structure. Jerome Deloria, in charge of the contest, said the bird log cabin easily would be the envy of every bird north of the Mason-Dixon line.

Francis Mayville won the second prize, and Dennis Deloria captured third place. Tom Boweke was fourth and Richard Johnson, fifth.

All competitors are asked to pick up their bird houses and prizes at the youth center any time after school. Prizes are available for every boy who entered the contest.

Arne J. Niemela, 43, World War II Vet, Dies In Wisconsin

Th body of Arne J. Niemela, 43, of Rock, who died at 7:30 p. m., April 27 in Woods, Wis., Veterans hospital, arrived in Escanaba this morning and was taken to Anderson Funeral Home.

Niemela had been ill the past 10 days, and was first taken to St. Francis hospital in Escanaba for treatment of hemorrhages. He was taken by ambulance to the veterans hospital in Wisconsin a week ago .

Niemela served as a first class private with Company A of the 959th ABSB during World War II and served as a plane guard in Iceland for several months. He enlisted Oct. 9, 1942 and was honorably discharged June 17, 1945.

Born in Finland, on Dec. 8, 1905, Niemela had lived in Rock since 1914 when he came to this country at the age of nine. He leaves his father, John Niemela and a brother Reino, both of Rock.

The body will be taken to the Rock Finnish hall at noon Sunday and funeral services will be held there at 1:30 p. m., Sunday with Arne Johnson officiating. Burial will be made in the family lot in Rock cemetery.

Noel Nault, Pioneer Of Spalding, Dies, Services Monday

Noel Nault, 82, pioneer of Spalding township, died yesterday afternoon at the family home following a six weeks' illness.

He was born in Stanfield, Province of Quebec, Ontario, Canada, July 27, 1866 and first settled in Spalding in 1891. He married Exilda Lemioux on September 3, 1889. He was one of the oldest members of St. Francis Xavier church in Spalding.

Surviving are his widow, two daughters and four sons, Mrs. Leon Poupore, Spalding, Mrs. Joseph Chenard, Iron Mountain; Fred of Marinette; Arthur, Neenah, Wis.; Clifford, Niagara, Wis.; and Louis of Fort Worth, Tex.; 19 grandchildren and 34 great grandchildren.

The body will be removed from the Boyle funeral home at Bark River to the family home at noon Saturday. Services will be held at 9 a. m. Monday at St. Francis Xavier church, Rev. Bernard Karel officiating, and burial will be in Spalding cemetery. The rosary will be recited at the family home at 8 p. m. Sunday.

Escanaba Marbles Tournament to Be Held in Two Weeks

Hey, skinnay! The city recreation department is sponsoring a marbles tournament at the junior high school ball diamond Saturday morning, May 14.

All youngsters interested in entering the tourney are asked to start practicing "mibs." The winner of the tourney will be sent to the state marbles tournament, the city recreation department reports.

Rules will not be too strict because this is the first time an tournament has ever been held in Escanaba. The name of the official tournament game is "ringer," and the idea, briefly, is to knock the marble out of a 10-foot circle. One knuckle of the "shooting hand" must be touching the ground while shooting.

Three divisions of competition will be 5-10 years of age, 11-13 and 14-17.

Heart and Cancer Funds Voted Sharp Increase in Senate

Washington, (AP)—The Senate has voted sharp increases in funds for heart and cancer research.

For the two programs the Senate voted a total of $66,267,000, more than three times the $21,630,000 recommended in the budget estimates submitted by President Truman.

As rewritten on the floor, the bill now carries $21,650,000 in cash and $15,500,000 in contract authority for the National Cancer Institute. The budget estimate was $16,100,000 in cash and $900,000 in contract authority.

For the National Heart Institute, the bill now contains $16,392,000 in cash and $12,725,000 in contract authority. The budget estimate was $4,000,000 in cash and $630,000 in contract authority.

LIONS PRESENT VARIETY SHOW

Professional Troupe At High School Saturday

The Escanaba Lions club will present the Ernie Young stage show, "Varieties of 1949" at the junior high school auditorium here tomorrow. There will be a matinee performance at two o'clock and evening performances at 7:00 and 9:15 p. m. Special admission rates for children are offered for the matinee.

The show will feature a series of outstanding theatrical acts, presented with the splendor of a Broadway revue. The cast includes the Madeline Wallace dancers, the singing of the Tripoli Trio, the comic antics of Sangor, Ross and Andre; Janice Newcome, imitations; the Three Jigsaws, nationally famous comedy trio; Miss Doris Bey, acrobatic artist; and Novelle's trained fox terriers.

The net proceeds of the show will be used to finance the Lion's club sight saving project.

The advance ticket sale indicates near capacity attendance at both evening shows.

Annual Meeting Delta - Escanaba ABA Scheduled

The first annual meeting of the Delta-Escanaba Artificial Breeding association membership will be held at 8 p. m. Wednesday, May 4, in the Bark River community hall.

The members elect two directors, receive reports on the past year's business, and an audit report of the association's books. Directors whose terms expire are Elmer Lepisto of Rock, now president of the Delta-Rock ABA, and Charles Cota Jr., of Escanaba Rt. 1.

George Parsons of Michigan State college dairy department, will attend the meeting and take part in the program. He will discuss problems of artificial breeding with the association.

Members and their wives will attend. Lunch will be served following the business meeting.

Thatcher Elected Head Of Escanaba Harmony Singers

Escanaba's barber shop chorus held their annual election last night and picked O. V. Thatcher as their new president to succeed Lowell Sundstrom. Soren Johnson of Gladstone was elected vice president. Secretary Douglas Walker and treasurer Nick Bink were reelected.

The chorus is now lining up quartette attractions for their annual barber shop concert, which will be held Oct. 22. Jack Morin is general chairman for the event, and acceptances have already been received from some of the leading quartettes in Michigan and Wisconsin.

NO NEW JAIL

Petoskey (AP) — Emmet county will spend $10,731 to repair its old jail—condemned by the state — instead of building a new one that will cost $100,000. After voters in a recent election turned down the new jail proposal, the county board of supervisors authorized the repair funds Thursday.

GORMAN MILL CLOSES DOWN

Ends Eight Years Run At Ontonagon

Ontonagon —The sawmill of the Gorman Lumber company at Ontonagon finished a little over eight years of operation late Wednesday afternoon. The last log to be sawed by the company went through the mill at 5 p. m. Unless the mill is sold to an individual or company that plans to operate it and, barring unforseen changes in conditions, the last major sawmill in Ontonagon is a thing of the past.

Although the mill is closed the yard and planing mill will continue to operate probably until late summer or fall. About 40 men are affected by the closing of the mill but a labor force of about 55 will continue in the planer, yard and in other work.

Walter T. Gorman, president of the company, explained that the mill is closing because the company has been unable to locate a tract of timber which could be purchased to furnish logs for the mill.

The sawmill closed six months to the day, almost to the hour, after the ending of operations in the woods. The last log was cut in the woods on Wednesday, October 27.

The company started as the Lake Superior Lumber Corporation in 1934 and on August 15, 1934, the first load of logs was brought in to the mill from the woods. Building of the mill was begun in the summer of 1935 and the first cut was made Feb. 13, 1936. The mill has run continuously since that date with a day and night shift.

The mill burned to the ground in February, 1947. and was rebuilt and completed in midsummer. On December 31, 1946 the plant was sold to the Gorman Lumber company by the Lake Superior firm.

During the operation well over 400 million board feet of lumber were cut in the mill, 400 million by the Lake Superior company and 30 million more by the present company.

Voice From Grave Backs Claim For W.C. Fields Estate

Los Angeles, (AP)—A follies girl's "Voice from the grave" accented a man's claim that he is the son of the late W. C. Fields and entitled to a share of the comedian's $771,428 estate.

On file in superior court are a deathbed letter written by the showgirl and also letters allegedly written by Fields.

The letters are part of a deposition filed in probate court in behalf of William Rexford Fields Morris, who claims to be Fields' son. His whereabouts and occupation were not disclosed.

He is represented by a Boston law firm and by Louis Thomsen, Los Angeles attorney.

A petition accompanying the deposition said statements in it were made April 16 at Onset, Mass., by Bessie Adelaide Witherall, mother of the follies girl, Bessie Chatteron Poole.

Morris filed a petition in superior court here last Feb. 3 to determine heirship in the many-sided contest over the estate of Fields, who died Christmas Day, 1946. Morris was not mentioned in Fields' will, dated April 28, 1943.

The comedian's long-estranged wife, Mrs. Harriet V. Fields, who was bequeathed $10,000 is suing for a widow's share in gifts made by Fields.

Deathbed Note Revealed

Mrs. Witherell's deposition said her daughter, who died Oct. 8 1928, was in the Ziegfield Follies in 1918 or 1919 and that she was infatuated with Fields, and appeared with him in a vaudeville act.

Mrs. Witherell's deposition said she first learned of the child's existence in a deathbead letter from her daughter which read:

"Darling mother: Well, I am just going to the hospital for an operation and of course I don't expect to die. But in case anything should happen, why I want you and gram to know I love you. And I have something to tell you.

"I have a son 10 years old who lives with Mrs. Rose Holden. I want you to take care of and bring up. W. C. Fields is his father. He is named William Rexford Fields Morris. He was born here in New York and I fully believe that Bill will take care of him but in case he does not, why, make him . . . "

If the son was 10 years old when his mother died in 1928, he now would be 31.

Two letters purportedly written by Fields to the follies girl in 1925 and 1926 and enclosing money, also were filed. The letters made no reference to a son.

Also filed was a postal card said to have been written by Fields to Mrs. Rose Holden on July 20, 1926. It read in part: "Will you please let me know your new address, also how far in arrears she (Bessie) is and I will keep payments up until she returns."

A receipt dated Nov. 14, 1927, was filed. It read: "I have received from Mr. W. C. Fields $50 for taking care of William Fields Holden, signed, Rose Holden."

BILL PROPOSES AID TO MINING

Want To Prevent U. P. Mines From Closing

Washington, D. C.—Sponsors of a bill providing $500,000,000 in incentive payments for mining strategic and critical metals claimed Thursday it will open from 30 to 50 lead and zinc mines in southern Wisconsin and prevent the copper mines of Upper Michigan from closing.

The bill, approved this week by the mining subcommittee of the house public lands committee. appropriates $100,000,000 a year for five years to subsidize the mining of critical metals for the nation's stockpile—metals needed in the event of war.

Eligible mines would contract with the government, which would pay a fair market price plus a production payment sufficient to enable the operators to carry on normal mining activities and get a reasonable profit. Affected would be many of the marginal mines which have been forced to close down or are said to be on the verge of closing. The government would also contribute to the cost of exploring for mineral deposits.

The measure has the backing of the National Minerals Conservation council, of which Prof. Edwin R. Shorey of the University of Wisconsin is president.

Newell Blair, secretary of the association, said only one mine in the southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois area is now in operation. That is at Galena, Ill. He said the mines in Wisconsin that would be put back into operation by the legislation would hire about eight persons each.

He said he believes the present bill meets objections raised to similar legislation two years ago, providing $35,000,000 a year for two years, which was vetoed by President Truman. Iron mining would not be affected.

Ed Cormier's Hen Lays Easter Egg Weighing 16 oz.

Ed Cormier's year-old White Rock hen must have had the Easter bunny in mind when she laid the egg Ed has been showing his friends and neighbors these past few days.

It is strictly one for the books. No one around here has ever seen anything like it nor are they likely too for some time to come.

Cormier's Easter egg weighed 16 ounces and its circumference the long way is nine and a quarter inches and its "girth" is eight inches even.

"How would you like something like that in your frying pan?" Cormier asked with a twinkle in his eye.

Cormier keeps his White Rocks at 1615 North 23rd street, Escanaba.

BONIFAS WILL HEARING MAY 2

Ask Court To Determine Wm. Bonifas Heirs

Judge Glenn W. Jackson of Gladstone will presile at an adjourned session of Delta county circuit court Monday to hear a petition for the construction of the will of the late William Bonifas, Escanaba lumberman, and for such other business as may come before the court.

The action seeking a bill for the construction of the will of William Bonifas was brought by John B. Bennett of Ontonagon, sole surviving trustee of the William Bonifas estate. The will was made in September, 1936. Rep. Bennett is congressman from the Twelfth congressional district.

The trustee points out that to distribute the residue of the William Bonifas estate pursuant to the provisions of the will "it is necessary that said will be construed and the provisions thereof be interpreted and a judicial determination be made."

The court is asked by the trustee to determine the persons constituting the legal heirs of the late Mary E. Hogan, Cecelia Bonifas Jerow, and Isaac Bonifas, and the proportionate interest of each in the residue of the William Bonifas estate.

During his lifetime and in his will Mr. Bonifas made generous gifts to St. Joseph's church, including funds for the construction of a new church and the William Bonifas gymnasium. His widow, who died last year, listed in her will benefactions to the Catholic Diocese of Marquette, to Escanaba public and parochial schools, to the city of Escanaba, and to St. Francis hospital totaling nearly $2,500,000.

DDT Spraying Of Alleys Welcomed

LAST summer the city tried a couple experimental sprayings of alleys, bushes, garbage receptacles, etc., with DDT for the control of flies, mosquitoes and other insect pests. The cost of the sprayings was comparatively small and the results were unusually good.

Whether the city will continue DDT spraying of alleys periodically this summer has not yet been decided, but presumably the job will be done if there is a public demand for continuation of this service.

Alley spraying removes the objection that many people have of promiscuous use of DDT against useful insects such as bees. These insects, of course, also will be killed if they are in the path of sprayers but the attack is aimed primary at mosquitoes that infest shaggy bushes near alleys and at flies that are attracted by garbage and refuse receptacles in alleys.

We hope that the city will make provisions in its budget now being prepared for the next fiscal year to spray the alleys periodically again this summer.

Arms Aid Is Part Of Atlantic Treaty

SECRETARY ACHESON told the senate foreign relations committee Wednesday that the question of arms aid for European nations is closely associated with the Atlantic Alliance, but that senators who voted for the pact would not be committed to accepting a package already wrapped up by he state department.

The secretary of state emphasized that the treaty implies an obligation to help signator nations with military supplies, "but the extent, the manner and the timing is up to the honest judgment of the parties." The members of congress would retain the right to decide the specific kind of aid that would be given and also determine when to provide such aid.

Mr. Acheson's expression that senators who voted for the alliance would be "less free" in their vote on the arms program brought a quick rejoinder from Senator Vandenberg, who apparently felt that the use of the term lacked discretion.

Actually, the arms aid program is an important phase of the Atlantic alliance. Its purpose is to implement the alliance itself by strengthening the defense of the signator nations of Europe. Senators who are opposed to the principle of military aid to Europe could hardly conscientiously support the alliance. That is the substance of Acheson's remarks to the senate committee.

There is nothing new or nothing startling in Mr. Acheson's testimony to the senate committee. The administration has already asked for an appropriation for military aid to the nations of Europe that have signed the Atlantic alliance. The inference that such aid is a part and parcel of the treaty has been evidenced from the conception of the scheme.

It would be a grievous error to try to sell the Atlantic treaty to the people of this country without conceding that some kind of military aid to foreign powers is also involved in the agreement.

We Still Lack Unification

THE resignation of Secretary of the Navy John L. Sullivan because of disagreement with Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson on the proposed construction of a supercarrier focuses public attention once again on the carrier issue.

Johnson ordered the suspension of work on the 65,000 ton carrier, United States, only a few days after work had commenced on the giant ship. The carrier would require several years and many millions of dollars to construct and was intended for use in strategic bombing by navy planes.

The navy has never before used carriers for strategic, long range bombing and it is argued, with considerable reason, that the army can do the long-range bombing job better from land bases and at considerably less cost. Most Americans doubt the advisability of pouring millions into a huge supercarrier for strategic bombing purposes in the light of knowledge of the vulnerability of such ships to an atom bomb explosion.

The army has developed long range bombers that can fly non-stop to any pin point on the globe, drop a heavy cargo of explosives on predetermined targets and return to their bases. Why, then, should the government build supercarriers of the type proposed for strategic bombing purposes when the army can do the same job much more effectively and at considerably less cost?

Carrier planes designed to provide air cover for a navy task force at sea are essential, as the recent war revealed so graphically, but that is not the kind of a mission for which the new United States supercarrier was planned.

The navy did not get the approval of the secretary of defense before starting work on the new carrier and Secretary Johnson ultimately had to appeal to the president for authority to stop work on the huge ship.

It is apparent that we are still a long way away from unification of our armed services.

Great Break Near In Cancer Fight

A great "break" in the fight against cancer has come. Soon, not too many months hence, you will be able to have periodic cancer detection blood tests. Doctors should be able to spot cancer in very early stages, just as the X--ray photograph picks up beginning tuberculosis and sugar in the urine warns that diabetes needs control.

The Huggins cancer detection method, just made known, gives promise of becoming a screening method to spot the early cancer cases.

Cancer has not been chemically cured, yet. The disarrangements of protein used in the Huggins cancer detection may be a very "hot" clue to cancer cause. But it is too early to be sure or even too cruelly hopeful.

The importance of the new prospect of cancer detection is:

Discover cancer early and something can be done about it, even now. X-ray and radium can be used to kill the wild, malignant cells that unchecked would bring sure death to the person. The surgeon's knife can extirpate cancerous growth. The figures show that nearly seven out of every 10 cancer cases can be cured, in the sense of living five years after the operation, if they are discovered early.

You have read the cancer campaign literature: See your doctor at once if you have a lump or thickening in the breast, a sore that does not heal, unusual bleeding or discharge, persistent indigestion, difficulty in swallowing, persistent hoarseness or cough, any change in normal bowel habits.

That is still vital, lifesaving advice. Follow it. But watch for the future possibility that you will have a new blood test for cancer detection that may give you new chances to save your life against the nation's number two killer.

Your doctor can't give this test today or tomorrow. It will take months before it is perfected, completely verified and made available at hospitals and clinics of the nation. Be patient as you are alert to use medical knowledge now available. And don't get worried just because you are reading about cancer.

HELP FOR ALCOHOLICS

(Marquette Mining Journal)

Alcoholics Anonymous, a chapter of which is operating in Marquette with a growing membership, has done good work in effecting reformation of chronic drinkers. It also appears the national committee for education on alcoholism is making headway in its campaign to convince people alcoholism is a disease and can be cured.

One New York concern, Consolidated Edison, has accepted the new idea, and is pensioning employes disabled by alcoholism. Further spreading is contemplated by the national committee when it raises funds in New York city next month. Collection boxes are to be placed in drinking establishments on which will appear this appeal to individual pride: "You can drink. Help the alcoholic who can't. Alcoholism is a disease."

Alarming estimates of the number of victims of alcohol have been made. The national committee believes there are 4,000,000 inebriates in this country who could be helped, and much of the steam behind the effort to aid them comes from reformed drinkers. Bartenders are coming to the committee's help, too, for the chronic drinker long has been a thorn in the side of the man with the white apron.

Prohibition is not the answer to this social problem; moderation is.

ALIEN LAND LAWS

(Milwaukee Journal)

It is gratifying to learn that the Oregon supreme court has declared invalid a law which would have barred a Nisei veteran of the recent war, one of the thousands of men of Japanese ancestry who fought so valiantly, from buying a farm.

It may be hoped that this decision, supported in effect by United States supreme court opinions, will lead to challenge and eventually overthrow of this type of legislation in other western states.

These "alien property" laws were adopted because citizens found it difficult to compete with orientals who used whole families in their truck gardening and who lived on a standard that permitted them to produce cheaply. A better solution to this problem is active Americanization of the orientals. Denying them the right to own land is itself a violation of the very principles for which America stands.

SOME JAWBREAKERS FOR YOUR VOCABULARY

The following letter from Lawrence E. Orr, of Pittsburgh, Pa., contains a number of expressive but esoteric words which he has used both cleverly and amusingly.

There isn't room here for a full explanation of the words and their pronunciations. But if you'd like to add the words to your vocabulary, and will send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me in care of this paper, I should be glad to define and pronounce the words for you.

Here is Mr. Orr's letter:

Dear Logogogue Colby:

As an advocate of holophraisis as an aid to simple, yet correct, English, may I welcome your invigilation in the logochamy now raging in your hodiernal column. Especially do I approve of your mastigophoric attitude toward the megalophonous prognathi whose errors you would correct.

Lay on, Colby, whether he be a mere anserine pococurante or an unbearable philodox. Let him have the old plumeopicean treatment, which it be a question of rhotacism or a matter of haplology. Fear not if they insidiate. Remember, you will continue your noegenesis, yet remain eumoirous, I am,

Your fellow philonoist,
Lawrence E. Orr.

Hoisington, Kansas: Will you kindly explain for my English class the origin of the word "prom" to designate a formal dance? —Mrs. E. D. K.

A. Prom is short for promenade, one meaning of which is "the ceremonious opening of a formal ball; a grand march; a dance given by students, usually of a particular class."

According to A Dictionary of American English, University of Chicago Press, "prom"—the abbreviation—is an Americanism. The earliest reference to it is dated 1894, from the publication Outing: "For two days in January the room is crowded with 'Prom' girls and their escorts."

Truman Getting Stubborn Again

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Childs

Washington.—It is now nearly three months since President Truman sent to the senate the name of Mon Wallgren to be chairman of the national security resources board. The senate armed services committee, by a majority of one, voted to keep the Wallgren nomination in the committee, which means that the full senate cannot pass on it.

This has stirred the president's resentment. He has got his Missouri stubbornness up and, in effect, he has told those who inquire that he hasn't the slightest intention fo withdrawing the Wallgren nomination. In fact, he will leave it before the senate until the paper it is written on rots away.

The president feels, according to his close associates, that the action of the armed services committee is not merely unfair but perhaps unconstitutional. When the law provides that a nomination shall be confirmed by the senate, it means the whole senate and not merely a handful of men on one committee.

COMPLAINT HAS MERIT

It seems to me that this complaint has genuine merit. Whatever one may think of the Wallgren appointment, and I happen to think very little of it, the whole senate has a constitutional right to approve or reject it. Instead, six Republicans on the armed services committee, plus one Democrat, Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, have set up a road block to hold the nomination back.

In recent years we have heard the executive denounced over and over again for encroaching on the legislative branch of government. But in the matter of presidential appointments it begins to look as though the congress were determined by one means or another to sabotage the president's appointive power.

Another instance is the appointment of John Carson to be a member of the federal trade commission. Before Carson could present his views to a senate committee, a well-planned smear campaign was directed against him with the connivance of certain senators.

The national security resources board has been without a full-time chairman for nearly four months, since the resignation of Arthur M. Hill, who was the first head of the board. John Steelman, one of the president's advisers, has been acting chairman but he has been able to give comparatively little time to the job.

During this period the staff of the board has pretty well deteriorated. Most of the top officials named by Hill have resigned and they have not been replaced.

GENERAL COUNSEL RESIGNS

Kenneth D. Johnson has resigned as general counsel. Vice-Chairman Reginald Gillmor has resigned. So has E. T. Grether, director of the economic management division, who has gone back to the University of California as dean of the graduate school of business.

The inquiring reporter is told that the board's remaining 250 employes—this includes stenographers and messengers—are still working on planning and co-ordinating other government departments for a war mobilization plan. But without any active leadership at the top, it must be pretty academic.

When Wallgren was appointed, Steelman named to the board as $50-a-day specialists two men who had been associated with Wallgren when he was governor of the state of Washington. These men, Jack Gorrie and Jack Ballew, stayed about six weeks. Then their initial contracts ran out and they departed. Ballew, who had been with the Plasterers' Union before he became Wallgren's budget officer, seemed to officials of the board distinctly unhappy in his role as $50-a-day expert.

A former Wallgren associate, John Davis, is still with the board. He is said to be working on task force and organizational problems.

One reason for the resentment felt at the White House is the belief that those who set out to block Wallgren deliberately over-emphasized the importance of the job. It was built up to tremendous proportions and then Wallgren was put alongside it and failed to measure up.

But as I see it, either it is a vitally important assignment—evolving an over-all plan for mobilization integrating business, government and every element for possible war—or it is a $14,000 a year sinecure. If it is the former, then Wallgren's qualifications are dubious, or certainly they have not been made clear. If it is the latter, then the job had better be abolished. But the senate is evading its duty in failing to pass on the Wallgren nomination.

Seems to Be a Poor Time to Make a Call

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

HELLO!—Now comes before us in public print the statement by a New York Telephone company official that the traditional "hello" is a stupid sound to make in answering the phone.

Dunathan

It wastes time to say "hello" and is as useless as a grunt. All the grunt would do would be to indicate that someone —or something —was at the receiver at the other end of the line.

The New York phone company official suggests that phone users develop the habit of responding to the phone ring with something like this: "Mr. Smith," or "Mr. Jones."

Of course if your name happened not to be "Smith" or "Jones" you could give your own name. That would be less confusing. Still less confusing would be the simple but dignified response, "hello."

* * *

CARELESS—More important, it seems to us, is the careless manner in which so many people speak into the telephone. Most of us are familiar with the bad telephone habits of some people.

They shout loud enough to wake Alexander Graham Bell and then wonder why they are misunderstood. Or they start out strong and then fade away into nothingness. Sometimes they have such weak voices on the phone you might think they were in another world. Later you discover they invariably cradle the phone mouthpiece under their chin. Others place their lips so close to the mouthpiece you can hear their tonsils rustle.

* * *

FOR BUSINESS— In the field of business and industry the telephone can become an instrument of torture for those who receive calls constantly throughout the working day. It has been suggested that the proper response for the girl at the business office is as follows:

"Spitfork Service, Miss Jones."

Or for a public office:

"Treasurer's office, Miss Jones."

These suggestions are excellent so far as they go, but there are complications if the name of the firm happened to be Glisterdon's Greynede & Fancy Pottery, Incorporated, Miss Jones; or in Washington D. C. to meet the problem of protocol to have Miss Jones pipe up in full with Employment and Unemployment Bureau of Divisions and Control Commission, Department of the Exterior.

Under these circumstances Miss Jones might be excused for saying "hello."

* * *

CALLING, CALLING—It has become increasingly fashionable for certain executives in business and government to never answer the telephone unless first directed to do so by an underling equipped with a buzzer. The underling with the buzzer buzzes the boss on the interoffice and tells him that so-and-so is calling. Does he want to answer? If he doesn't the underling reports that the boss is in conference or Cuba, depending on who is calling.

If the boss wants to telephone someone he first informs the underling, who places the call and tells you "Just a moment please, Mr. Bigdome is calling." Meanwhile Mr. Bigdome either takes a walk in the park or goes to the washroom, and the underling keeps you dangling at your end of the line until she reports, not even regretfully, that Mr. Bigdome will have to call you back. This reversal of the ordinary telephone procedure has maddened more people than have ever received a wrong number. Most people feel that if Bigdome is too busy to call you personally he should move to a reservation and learn smoke signals.

* * *

AFFECTATION—Not to be overlooked in this discussion of telephone manners is the person who grows affected, effeminate and floozy on the phone.

Instead of saying "Hello, this is Joe Blow speaking," they report in dignified accents that "This is the Joseph Blow residence." Invariably they have to come down off their horse and say, "Yeah, this is Joe."

Example: The young lady who replied to a telephone call by saying, "Hello-o! The Jones home! Miss Jones speaking!" and then turned from the phone to yell, "Ma-aw! It's for you!"

Example: The telephone operator who answers the light with, "Numbah, plea-uhz."

* * *

CONCLUSION— "Hello" may have no more meaning than a grunt, but for our money it is still a fairly satisfactory way of answering the phone. Especially in a home where two-thirds of the calls are for the younger generation, a group uninterested in formality. Let the teen-agers do the telephone grunting. We'll stick to hello.

A friend of mine earns his living in the hours between dusk and dawn one day his small daughter came to him and said, "You know what the other kids call you?—the night watchman."

Before he went to bed each morning my friend had a habit of putting the change in his pocket on the bureau top. Then he would joke:

"That's what they paid daddy today."

One day his daughter said to him: "Don't we ever make more than five bucks a day?"

It was only then that he learned his daughter had joined a social class above his own.

On another occasion he forgot to put some change on the bureau top. Before his daughter trotted off to school, she shook him awake and said:

"Why don't they pay you more regular?"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—While it's difficult to get the right men to fill top government jobs, the proposed appointment of Curtis Calder, head of Electric Bond and Share, as secretary of the army is going to cause a lot of eyebrow-lifting among farmers.

Pearson

In the first place, Electric Bond and Share was one of the power trusters whose abuses led to passage of the holding corporation act; and the records of the federal trade commission regarding its operations make juicy reading. Second, and more recently, Electric Bond and Share has been one of the most effective and ruthless members of the power-trust gang in fighting the government's program for public power and rural electrification.

Nevertheless, it is now proposed to take the head of this giant corporation which has bitterly opposed the government, and embrace him in the bosom of the government as policy-maker, among others, for the army engineers — which build the multipurpose dams for the government.

"To put Calder in this job," says the Rural Electric Cooperative, "would be about the same as making Ham Moses, of Arkansas Power and Light, the secretary of the army." Moses is the power executive who once gave nylon stockings to the wives of congressmen he wanted to vote against public power.

BACKGROUND RE GERMANY

On the foreign front, Calder's connections are also important. One of the army's most vital jobs pertains to Germany. That country, from which sprang two great wars, may hold the key to future wars, and the cabinet officers who make decisions regarding Germany must be impartial.

Mr. Calder, however, is a director of the United States and Foreign Securities Corp., and the United States and International Securities Corp., both organized by Dillon, Read and Co., for the purpose of financing public utilities in Germany before the war.

The Dillon, Read group has always believed in building up Germany and, despite the mistake of having financed what eventually became part of Hitler's war machine, this group has continued to support German cartels. An official report is now before the army department criticizing ex-Undersecretary of the Army William Draper, another Dillon, Read executive, for rebuilding cartels since the war.

James Forrestal, ex-secretary of national defense and former head of Dillon, Read, is also in this group. And it was one of the companies of which Mr. Calder is director—U. S. and Foreign Securities—which caused Forrestal great embarrassment. For a senate committee revealed the fact that he had made a profit of $865,000 by selling his holdings in this corporation in 1929 and had avoided paying income tax on the $865,000 by creation of a family holding corporation in Canada.

Capable as Mr. Calder may be as a business executive, his corporate background is not going to inspire confidence among the two million men who would serve under him in the U. S. army.

CONFUSING THE RUSSIANS

On Easter Sunday, the Soviet officer attached to the U. S. air safety center at Tempelhof airdrome, Berlin, watched 13,000 tons of goods landed by U. S. airplanes in a single day—a landing or takeoff every thirty seconds. Before the Berlin blockade, the total flow of goods into Berlin from the western zones by rail, barge and truck—all three put together—was not more than 11,000 tons a day. Shrugging his shoulders at the amazing performance of U. S. air freight carriers, the Russian officer walked out in despair. He said he could no longer follow, much less record, the speed and complexity of the American flight pattern. No wonder Russia is now ready to lift the blockade.

WASHINGTON LEANS TO ARABS

The capital's horse-and-hound set is beginning to take up the Arab. No, it isn't so much interested in Palestine, as in horses. Arabian horses, the original breed that carried Ghengis Khan through Asia, have now come to the U. S. A. And believe it or not, but out of only 5,000 pure-bred Arabians in the world, 4,000 of them are in this country. Though smaller than the Virginia hunter, they are the most intelligent horse living, and because of past habits of desert forage, eat less. Virginians have to look to the Middle West for pure Arabs, however —one of the prize stallions, Sarab Al Sahra, being owned by Joe Lebowitz of Midlothian, Ill., who goes in for Arab horses, but not the Arab horsemen of Palestine.

BATTLE OF WHISKY BARRELS

Seton Porter, president of National Distillers, one of the most powerful members of the whisky combine, has been lobbying to block a treasury declaration that whisky aged in second-hand barrels is just as good as whisky aged in new barrels. The treasury contends there is no difference between new and second-hand barrels in the aging of whisky, Seton Porter, a heavy contributor to the Democratic national committee (after the election, rushed in, pounded on treasury desks and demanded that the ruling be reconsidered. Mr. Porter stands to lose money if the treasury sticks to its original position favoring second-hand barrels.

FARM BATTLE

A furious battle has broken out between the farm bureau and the agriculture department. The first salvo was fired by Allan Kline, head of the farm bureau, who protested angrily because he wasn't consulted about Secretary of Agriculture Brannan's new farm program. Defiantly, Kline ordered his state organizations to oppose the program, later made the strange declaration that the program offered the farmers too much money. Brannan will now carry his case against Kline direct to the farmers, who are beginning to wonder just who Kline is supposed to represent.

Mrs. Marguerite Niemi of Grand Marais spent Tuesday with her mother, Mrs. William DeLawrier.

Ladies Auxiliary

The VFW Ladies' Auxiliary met at the community building Thursday evening. Due to the absence of the president, Mrs. Maude Burns and other officers, the meeting was of a social nature. Cards were enjoyed after which a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Veretta Gager and Mrs. Ethel Decker.

Among members attending were Mrs. Blanche Orlich, Mrs. Jennie Swisher, Mrs. Marian Jack, Mrs. Bessie DeLaurier, Mrs. Ann Skarritt, Mrs. Ethel Decker, Mrs. Valeria Rupright, Mrs. Myrtle Mortensen and Mrs. Veretta Gager.

Ladies Meet

The W. S. C. S. met at the home of Mrs. A. Christie, Gould City, Tuesday.

The hostess, Mrs. Christie, served a 1 o'clock luncheon after which business and a social hour occupied the afternoon.

Among those attending were Mrs. Charles Cornell, Mrs. James Burns, Mrs. W. Beloungea, Mrs. William De Laurier, Mrs. Audie McDougall, Mrs. John Lustila, Mrs. Axel Mortensen, Mrs. Harvey Saunders, Mrs. Herbert Musselmon, Mrs. Ray Heath, Mrs. Kenneth Campbell and Mrs. A. Christie.

Mrs. Marguerite Niemi was an out-of-town guest from Grand Marais.

Family Night Supper

A large crowd attended the family night pot luck supper which was held Tuesday evening at the community building. The supper was under the auspices of the M. E. church and was served at 6:30 after which Rev. Brodi of McMillan showed pictures of many of the churches in the Upper Peninsula, and gave a history of their origin.

Out-of-town guests who attended besides Rev. and Mrs. Brodi, were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Merwin of Manistique.

Camp Fire President Cites Recent Developments; Lauds Young Workers In Escanaba

The extension of Camp Fire activities to include high school girls is the most significant recent development in U. S. Camp Fire activity, Mrs. James Parker, national president of the organization, said here in an interview yesterday.

Mrs. Parker, who was president of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers from 1942 to 1945 and a national vice president of the P. T. A. from 1945 to 1948, was in Escanaba the past three days to confer with members of the state P. T. A. on child and family care.

She conducted three conferences, presided at a luncheon and presented an address over radio station WDBC. The same address, in which Mrs. Parker tells of Camp Fire work, and of the beauty of the lake and Escanaba, will be re-broadcast in Lower Michigan from the Michigan State college radio station.

Buy Building

Recently, Camp Fire Girls, Inc., purchased a building at 16 East 48th street in New York for its national headquarters. During the next two years some 300,000 Camp Fire girls will work on projects to help pay for the structure. Camp Fire Girls, Inc., operates largely on its $1 a year membership fee, from the 350,000 people in the United States who are members.

"I wish to extend a sincere invitation to all Escanabans to visit the new headquarters when they are in New York. We like to have visitors and every Escanaban will receive a most cordial welcome, Mrs. Parker said.

A religious policy committee was recently formed by the Camp Fire organization, in response to a "felt need" for spiritual guidance for Camp Fire girls. The committee is comprised of lay and secular delegates of Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths and members of the national Camp Fire staff.

Escanaba Groups

"We are anxious for girls to learn to understand people of other faiths and to realize that they hold many ideals in common," she said. Many schools and churches directly sponsor Camp Fire troops.

With respect to Escanaba Camp Fire work, Mrs. Parker said: "I am delighted to see the interest in Camp Fire activity shown by young mothers in Escanaba, and I feel that it is indicative of a trend toward an unprecedented development in Camp Fire work."

The basic philosophy of Camp Fire, which has not changed since its founding in 1911 by Dr. Luther Gulick and his wife, along with prominent educators, is that the individual girl is the important focus for Camp Fire activities. Her abilities and qualities should be developed and considered in a large range of interest, the president stated.

UNESCO Recognition

The past five years, said Mrs. Parker, has seen a great deal of growth and development in Camp Fire activities. "The executive secretary of the Camp Fire headquarters has been requested twice since the close of the war to help arrange youth groups in Germany, by the American government. Last year they worked on the project "Send Santa Overseas" and they help supply European children with large boxes of pencils."

At a recent regional meeting of UNESCO in Cleveland, Mrs. Parker, a delegate, said she saw demonstration slides on this activity presented to the conference.

Men Work Too

Camp Fire Girls Inc., is affiliated with the National Assembly for Social Welfare. Camp Fire activity centers about the family of the girl and aims to make good mothers, and good world citizens of them. Both men and women are leaders of the groups and serve on the various boards.

In Escanaba there are 135 members of Camp Fire, composed of both Bluebirds and Horizon Club members.

Mrs. Parker has been active in Camp Fire work since 1932, when her oldest daughter became 10 and eligible for membership. She has two daughters, one is married and living in Japan, and the younger operates a nursery school at Michigan State college. Her husband is an executive in a transportation company, and is also active in Camp Fire work.

Mrs. Parker was a luncheon guest yesterday, with members of the Bay de Noc Camp Fire council, at the home of Mrs. Clarence Zerbel, 920 South 13th street.

DAV Auxiliary Meeting May 5

Escanaba Chapter 24, Disabled American Veterans' Auxiliary will hold a regular meeting Thursday evening, May 5, at 8 in Unity hall. Installation of officers will be followed by a social hour and lunch. Miss Florence Ray is chairman of the hostess committee.

Animals Feature Of Story Hour

Because boys and girls never grow tired of hearing about animals, story hour at 10:00 on Saturday morning in the children's room of Carnegie public library will feature two more stories about animal friends. Miss Betty M. Harris, children's librarian, will tell what happened to "Can-can", the little goat, and to "Bop-pet, Please Stop It", the little puppy.

Past Matrons to Meet Wednesday

The Delta County Past Matrons' club is meeting Wednesday evening at Gladstone. The meeting will open with a 7 o'clock dinner at Jack's at Rapid River. Dinner reservations which close Monday noon are in charge of Mrs. Wallace Hibbard, telephone 2548.

Personal News

Miss Frances Olson has returned to Green Bay where she is employed at Bellin Memorial hospital after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Werner A. Olson, 805 South 18th street, and her grandfather, Henry Hoes, of Bark River, who has been seriously ill. Mr. Hoes, who has been a patient at St. Francis hospital for three weeks, is improving.

Rev. Lundberg Named Chairman Of Association

Rev. Albert Lundberg of Norway was elected chairman of the Ministerial association of the Great Lakes Conference, Covenant churches, which opened its 63d annual meeting at the Ev. Covenant church in Escanaba Wednesday. He succeeds Rev. John G. Paulson of Ashland, Wis.

Rev. N. O. Wickstrom of Fence, Wis., was named vice chairman; Rev. Paulson assumed the office of secretary; Rev. John P. Anderson of the host church is vice secretary and Rev. Perl Harris of Pioneer, Mich., is treasurer.

Meetings of the Ministerial association opened Wednesday evening and continued through Thursday afternoon.

The Great Lakes Conference opened last evening and the meeting of the Covernant Women's Auxiliary opened its sessions this morning at Immanuel Lutheran church. Rev. K. K. Jacobson is delivering the sermon at this evening's conference meeting at 7:45 and Mrs. D. A. Needham of Powers and Mrs. Fred Burgh of Chicago addressed this afternoon's Auxiliary meeting.

Services will be held at the customary hours Sunday at the Covenant church with the speaker, Rev. Sigfrid Carlson, Conference superintendent, the speaker.

Attending Sessions

Registered for the Ministerial meeting and Conference sessions are:

Rev. D. A. Needham, Powers; Rev. Albert Lundberg, Norway; Rev. Phillip Erykholm, Iron Mountain; Rev. N. O. Wickstrom, Fence, Wis.; Rev. George Peterson, Wallace; Rev. John Paulson, Ashland, Wis.; Rev. Perl Harris, Pioneer, Mich.; Rev. Harold Haynes, Stephenson; Rev. Rudolph Freeman, Iron Mountain; Rev. Raymond Booher, Iron River; Rev. Arne Folden, Foster City; Rev. C. V. S. Engstrom, Gladstone; Rev. Supt. Sigfrid Carlson, Norway; Rev. Irving F. Carlson, Stephenson; Rev. David Bjurlin, Menominee; Rev. E. M. Bickell, Marinette; Rev. John Anderson, Escanaba; Rev. Lowell Johnson, Carlshend, and Rev. Miss Alvera Dahlberg, Newald, Wis.

Today's Recipes

Mrs. Oscar Lund of Cooks would like a recipe for smelt canned with tomato juice, also with mustard sauce and a recipe for pickled smelt. If you have these will you send them in to the Escanaba Daily Press, recipe department?

Richard Oslund Will Give Magic Show On May 15

Richard Oslund, St. Joseph High School senior, who has given magic shows since he was 13 years old, will present a performance in William Bonifas auditorium on May 15 at 8 p. m., as a benefit for the building fund of St. Thomas the Apostle church,

Tickets for the show are on sale at Lahay's Dairy Bar, at the Oslund home at 618 Stephenson avenue, and from members of Circles 15 and 16 of St. Thomas the Apostle church, who are sponsoring the appearance of the young magician.

"Richard the Magician" will offer various well-known magic acts in a show planned to run for an hour and a half. Miss Louise LeBlanc, singer, will also be on the program.

HORATIO ALGER IN NEW TWIST

Modern Type Of Hero Seen By Ruark

By ROBERT C. RUARK

New York—It suddenly occurs that the success chronicler, the Horatio Alger of our times, must drastically remodel his plot structure, or else be held up in scorn as a black reactionary and a fusty old bore.

You doubtless recall Alger's pluck-and-luck, sink-or-swim formula for his young heroes. Ben the bootblack (for it was indeed he) hit the big city as a penniless waif. Papa had been butted to death by a maddened billygoat. Mama was dead of the gout. Crippled little sister was languishing in the poorhouse, where they beat her every hour on the tick.

Benny-boy thumbed his way to town on a slow boat from Jersey City. Tottering on starvation's brink, he found a plump wallet in the street, Noble, honest youth that he was, he returned it, intact, to the rich banker. The R. B., no spendthrift, offered employment as a reward.

After that it was a breeze. Ben accepted the job of assistant pro in the gent's lounge, and rapidly rose. He foiled the bank robbers, saved the R. B.'s beautiful daughter from a fate worse than death, achieved the bank's presidency, married the gal, and, when last seen, was merrily foreclosing mortgages right and left. Needless to say, little sister got the best medical attention money could bribe.

Alphabetical Career

I see the modern Ben in a somewhat different light. Fresh from Harvard, in the mid-30's. He borrows enough money from his reactionary old man to reach Washington. He has heard of the WPA, and gets a job in the artist-and-writer project, just for groundwork. Tiring of art, he switches to NYA, where he helps make policy to redeem youth.

Ben decides to become a career man. In rapid succession, he whirls through NIRA, NLRA, AA, FPHA, Social Security and Rural Resettlement. When war comes, Ben girds for battle. He first gets a job in the OPA, but there isn't enough action there, so he switches to the OCD. Squaredance in the lunch hour is still too tame, so Ben goes over to the OWI. Now he really is at war, making the valient fight.

Still thirsting for Japanese blood, Ben is unhappy in New York, so he allows himself to be drafted six months before VJ Day, thereby qualifying for the GI bill of rights, and spends the rest of his army time administering the conquered enemy.

Returning to New York, he collects his state veterans' bonus, Joins the American Legion, and goes to Washington to lobby for the National Pension bill. The GI Bill of Rights gives him sufficient credit for several hundred hours of rumba and samba lessons under Arthur Murray. His vast experience in government, plus his social suavity and light dancing foot, earns him an immediate job as an economist.

Pensions for Everybody

He is instrumental in shaping legislation calling for free medical attention, free college postgraduate education for everybody, higher subsidies for the farmer, higher subsidies for the everybody, pensions for soldiers, sailors, merchant mariners, coal miners, housewives, piano players and homeless cats. He is the author of the famed Ben Bill, which reduced the legal work-week to three hours.

By stealthy avoidance of the Communists he met during his prewar alphabet days, Ben achieves cabinet rank. Only then does he consider matrimony. He marries the rich widow of a dairy lobbyist and buys a small but impeccable ambassadorship. He retires to a villa at 60, and although he doesn't need his social security and his veterans pension, the money comes in handy for knick-knacks like original Dufy paintings and caviar.

A success, Ben dies at 85— not before he has seen his government work out a plan to give every child a card entitling him to a lifetime of free food, clothes, care, education, travel, housing, whisky and companionship of the opposite sex. Money had disappeared, since there was no need of it. Only one thing was unclear, and that was where all the food, clothes, booze and stuff was to come from, since nobody worked any more, and the human brain was in process of becoming vestigial. It will take the Horatio Alger of tomorrow to figure out a hero to fit those times.

Peru at the time of its conquest by Pizarro included all of Bolivia and Ecuador and part of Argentina and Colombia.

900 Are Jobless In Alger County

Munising—While about 900 Alger county persons are now registered with the Munising office of the state employment service, there are prospects for some relief from that load, Walter Mayland, office manager, said.

He expects woods operations to begin again as soon as weight restrictions are removed from highways. Construction work here during the summer will employ some men. And the Spring tree-planting program in the Munising district of the Hiawatha national forest will get underway next week with about 30 men to be hired to plant 250,000 3-year old red pine seedlings.

An April 15 there were 883 registrants on file at the employment office.

Awards Presented To Two Cub Scouts

Munising—Two Cub Scouts of Pack 332, sponsored by the Presbyterian Men's club, received awards at a meeting Tuesday evening at the church. John Trumbell received the Bear badge, a gold arrow point and four silver arrow points and Ronald Seglund was presented with the Wolf badge and a gold arrow point.

Another Donkey Game Is Planned

Munising—A "return" donkey basketball game will be played between teams of the Rotary and Lions clubs here Tuesday night, May 10, in Mather gymnasium. Proceeds will go to the Lions community playgrounds equipment fund.

In a game last weekend which was attended by a capacity crowd the Lions defeated the Rotarians 4-0.

The annual business meeting of the Drama club will be held at 8 Monday night at the home of Mrs. A. M. Stebler with Mrs. Stebler and Mrs. George Wickstrom as hostesses. Mrs. H. A. Barton is chairman of the program committee.

Mrs. Charles A. Everett attended the Lake Superior Presbyterian in Sault Ste. Marie this week as a delegate from the Presbyterian Guild.

A group from the Luther League here will attend a Fellowship rally which will be held Sunday evening at the Emmanuel Lutheran church, Skandia.

Mrs. Harold Deming and daughter, Charlene, and Mrs. Joseph DuPraw, of Cadillac, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Hilmer Ekdahl.

PTA, B&PW Will Hold Card Party

Munising — Three Munising Parent-Teacher units and the Business and Professional Women's club will sponsor a public card party which will be held Monday night, starting at 8, in the Mather high school gymnasium. Proceeds will go towards Alger county's $750 quota for the maintenance and expansion fund at the Bay Cliff Health camp, Big Bay.

Tables of "500", bridge, pinochle and cribbage will be played.

Mrs. A. J. Chaltry, of the Sacred Heart PTA, Mrs. Eugene Williams, of the Mather Elementary PTA, Mrs. Ray Kinzer, of the Washington PTA, and Mrs Edward Genry, of the BPW club, are in charge of arrangements.

Fish Expert Speaks Before Sports Club

Stanley Lievense, fish biologist with the Michigan Conservation department with headquarters at Escanaba, told members of the Minnewasca Sportsmen's club that there are many lakes in the Upper Peninsula in which trout may be caught but which are lightly fished for that species.
He commented on the plantings of legal trout being made this week by the fisheries division of the department and told the streams the plantings were to be made in and enlisted assistance from club members in the work.
The question of requesting an early season on the taking of steel-head trout in the Days and Whitefish rivers was raised. Information is to be obtained and a report given at the next meeting.
Sgt. Willard W. Wixom outlined plans being made for an Upper Peninsula Sports Show in conjunction with the national roleo early in July. Mounted heads of wild animals as well as stuffed animals and mounted fish are desired for the show. Persons having stuffed animals or fish native to this area who are willing to loan them are requested to contact Sgt. Wixom, phone 4231.
Arm patches or insignia are being obtained for members of the Minnewascan club.

FRANK SMITH PASSES AWAY

Was Camp Cook In Area For Many Years

Frank J. Smith, 64, of Parkington, who for many years worked in this area as camp cook, died Thursday morning at his home, following a stroke.

Mr. Smith was born in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and came to Upper Michigan in his youth. He first worked in the vicinity of Escanaba, where on August 20, 1914, he was married to Miss Nellie Ayott. In 1925 the family moved to Manistique, residing in this vicinity ever since. For the past eight years he was employed as cook for the Heinz Lumber company.

Surviving him are his wife Nellie, two daughters, Mrs. Rose Bergman, of Gulliver; and Mrs. Alice Healy, of Marquette; and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Morton Funeral Home with the Rev. Harold Martinson officiating. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery.

More Than $500 Given In Easter Seal Campaign

Donations amounting to slightly in excess of $500 have been made to the local Easter Seal campaign for crippled children, Mrs. Lloyd Neville, county chairman, reports.

With but a couple of days remaining before the drive is discontinued, Mrs. Neville asks that those who have not contributed to the cause should do so at once. Donations should be made to Roy Anderson, who is treasurer of the campaign, at the First National bank.

This seal campaign, a nation wide effort, is devoted to the cause of crippled and physically handicapped children. Half of the funds secured remain here to care for local cases.

Rudy Vallee Acts As Delivery Boy For Fried Chicken

Los Angeles, (AP)—The "Casserole" Caterers opened a new branch on the upbeat—with a willing lad named Rudy Vallee as delivery boy.

The crooner had eaten many meals prepared by proprietor Bob Leberman and promised he would deliver the first order when the new shop opened at suburban Westwood.

The place opened for business April 27 and Rudy kept his promise. Attired in white coat, he delivered a fried chicken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Thomas.

Mrs. Thomas was startled, to say the least, when she opened the door to be confronted with a husky delivery boy who immediately started singing "I Am A Vagabond Lover."

Rudy insisted on entering the home and serving Mr. and Mrs. Thomas and their daughter, Edith, three. The chicken—and a bottle of champagne—were on the caterers.

ACCEPTS C-C SUMMER POST

Carl Olson Will Serve As Secretary

Carl Olson, principal of Manistique high school, has accepted the offer recently made to him by the Manistique-Schoolcraft Chamber of Commerce, to serve as secretary of that body during the summer months and is expected to assume his new duties as soon as the current school term closes.

Mr. Olson's duties, while having to do with the general run of secretarial work, will include the task of assisting the tourist public to find itself in this area.

In this endeavor Mr. Olson has had much experience, having served as manager last year at the Palms Book State Park. Strangers calling at the information center will be well served.

Fire Department Responds To 5 Calls Wednesday

The Manistique fire department responded to five calls Wednesday, Chief Elmer Boal reports. In each case but one they were grass fires and the result of carelessness.

The first call came at 7:45 in the morning to the Ken Smith residence on Maple street, where children are believed to have set off the blaze.

The second call was in the yard back of Barney Johnson's store.

The next call was to the first slip to the east on Manistique river.

The fourth call was to the Leslie Marks residence on North Third street, where a grass fire seriously threatened the house. The building was built on timbers which had already caught fire but were put out without serious difficulty.

The last call was to Carl's bar, where fire was smouldering in the sawdust of the old ice house at the rear of the building.

There was no loss in any of these cases.

Wind Blows Away Part of Ski Tower

The tower of the Manistique Ski Club was practically destroyed in a recent wind storm.

As it will have to be rebuilt, members of the club are undecided whether the same site will be used or whether one closer to town, adjacent to the city ski hill will be preferable.

PARKING LOTS TO BE PROVIDED

Several Vacant Lots To Be Put To Use

Free parking space will be available to the public about the time the parking meters are installed and ready for use, it has been revealed by a local survey.

Lots between the LaFoille and Roy Anderson residence, facing on South Cedar street, owned by J. L. LaDuc; and the remainder of the vacant lot where Homer LaFoille is about to erect a new tavern building, will be devoted to that purpose. In respect to the LaDuc property, the hollow at the rear of the lot is being filled in for the same use. On the West Side, lots between the Vaughan grocery and the West Side Drug store will be graded for parking lot purposes. This property is owned by Henry Gardner who offers them for such use subject to later change in plans. In each case the edge of the lot facing the sidewalk will be timbered to prevent any approach to the street as entrance to the lots will have to be from alleyways.

There are also numerous other vacant spaces which will be available in downtown areas.

'56 Olympics At Melbourne As Detroit Loses 4th Try

Rome, April 29 (AP)—For the first time in history the Olympic games will be held below the equator.

The International Olympic Committee (IOC), meeting here, has chosen Melbourne, Australia, as the summer games site for 1956.

Buenos Aires, which had been given only an outside chance by most observers, would have had the games by a shift of one vote. Melbourne won on the fourth ballot by 21 votes against 20 for Buenos Aires.

The 1952 Olympics will be staged in Helsinki, Finland.

Cortina, Italy, famed winter sports resort south of the Austrian border, was awarded the 1956 winter games.

Most bitterly disappointed of all delegations was that of Detroit, which had been figured a close choice with Melbourne for the summer award.

The Michigan city, making its fourth try for the honor, and Los Angeles were eliminated on the third ballot. Other American cities which also ran were San Francisco, Chicago, Philadelphia and Minneapolis.

Detroit lost out because of a late but concerted effort to send the meet south of the equator, according to Mayor Eugene I. Van-Antwerp, who presented Detroit's case to the IOC.

Showing keen disappointment, the Detroit mayor said he would be willing however, to keep on working to bring the games to the motor city some time in the future.

It would be his city's fifth try.

"But I never give up," he added.

This time, he said, the delegates from the British Empire and the Spanish-speaking nations from South America lined up too solidly for the United States to have a chance.

"It was just a question of whether it should go to a Spanish-speaking group in the south or an English-speaking group, and the English-speaking group won," Van Antwerp said.

"The committee appeared determined —so we learned later— to send the games below the equator."

'Lippy' Durocher In Trouble Again

Cincinnati, April 29 (AP)—Leo Durocher, manager of the New York Giants, was suspended indefinitely today by Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

New York, April 29 (AP)—Leo Durocher was in hot water again today, but nobody knew just how hot.

The quick-tempered manager of the New York Giants was accused by a Brooklyn fan of punching and kicking him yesterday at the Polo Grounds. Durocher, however, denied he hit anybody.

From a hospital cot, the fan—22-year-old Fred Boysen—said he would bring charges of assault against Durocher.

Boysen, a vociferous Brooklyn rooter, said he was attacked on the playing field after Durocher's Giants had been whipped, 15-2, by the Dodgers.

Durocher gave this version of the incident:

"As I was crossing the field to the dressing room I recall somebody snatching at my cap. I grabbed it back and kept walking. This sort of thing happens every day. I was surrounded by members of the Giants team and there were hundreds of spectators on the field. Do you think I could knock somebody down in front of them?"

Boysen—a war veteran—said he had been razzing the Giants' manager from a box behind the New York dugout. He gave this version:

"After the game my cousin and I went on the field. We were passing first base on our way over to talk to Jackie Robinson. Durocher came up behind me. He grabbed me and punched me. As I tried to get up—I was dizzy—he kicked me in the stomach."

The incident assumed added importance because of Durocher's stormy career.

He was banished for the 1947 season by Commissioner A. B. Chandler for conduct detrimental to baseball. Durocher was then manager of Brooklyn.

In July, 1945 he was charged with felonious assault upon a spectator at a Brooklyn game. The fan claimed Durocher beat him black and blue while a special Ebbets field guard held him. Durocher was acquitted.

During the past winter Durocher was called on Commissioner Chandler's carpet again in connection with the hiring of Fred Fitzsimmons as a Giant coach while still under contract to the Boston Braves. Fitzsimmons drew a month's suspension, but Leo got off with a reprimand.

Ted Williams Back In The Groove

Escanaba Softball League Play Opens Monday, May 16th

Organized and ready for the staring gong are 16 teams in the American and National leagues of the Escanaba Softball association, and play will get underway Monday, May 16, it was announced this morning.

As a special opening feature, a doubleheader has been booked for Sunday night, May 15, at Memorial field with Northland Stores and Hughes-Tomlinson tangling in the curtain-raiser and Liberty Loan and Paper Mill having at it in the nightcap.

Here's the lineup for the two leagues:

American—People's Bar, Escanaba Merchants, NuWay Cleaners, Escanaba Paper Company, Larmay's White Birch and Liberty Loan.

National— Escanaba Steam Laundry. Northland Stores, P. & H. Welders, Knights of Columbus, Upper Michigan Pole and Light Company, Harnischfeger T. C., Clairmont's, Hughes-Tomlinson and the Bark River CYO.

Trophies will be awarded again this year to the leading hitter and pitcher in both leagues. Players will receive free passes to all league games, and tickets for wives and steady girl friends of players may be procured for a nominal fee.

Phil Brazeau, president, reports the following business taken up at the final organization meeting: Frank Hirn elected chairman of umpires (contact him if you want to umpire), resignation of Cliff Beaudin, sr., from board of control, agreement to play on Hyde and Flat Rock diamonds if officers approve.

Players are informed that passes for opening games May 16 may be procured from team managers, who will get them from Brazeau, whose telephone number is Gladstone 2591.

The schedule for opening day will be announced later.

First Homer And Perfect Day At Bat

By Jack Hand
(By The Associated Press)

O, American League pitchers, beware! Ted Williams is hitting his long ball again!

While Rookies Johnny Groth and Jack Graham and teammate Vern Stephens battered the fences Teddy had to be content with singles and doubles. Now he's back in the groove.

Williams had a big day yesterday with his first homer, a single and three walks for a perfect day against Philadelphia. He drove in five runs during the afternoon's festivities at friendly Fenway Park.

Ted Williams

Led by Williams, the Sox thumped the A's, 12-5, for a clean sweep of the two-game set. Now they move on to New York for an important series with the Yankees. It was the fourth straight loss for the A's.

Look At Lopat

Manager Joe McCarthy found encouragement in the pitching of Mickey Harris, making his first start of the season. The 31-year-old lefthander allowed only three hits up to the seventh, although the A's final total was 11.

The Yanks warmed up for the Boston series by downing Washington, 6-2, behind Ed Lopat. The Chunky lefthander, supposedly a slow starter in the spring and a great hot weather pitcher, now has won three straight.

Rookies Dick Kryhoski, with two singles and a triple, and Gene Woodling with a single and triple, led the attack on Rae Scarborough for the Yanks' eighth win in 10 starts.

Cleveland and Chicago were not scheduled, giving player-Manager Lou Boudreau of the tribe another day to rest after being hit on the elbow by a pitched ball.

Rojek, Elliott Out

Both Stan Rojek of the Pittsburgh Pirates, hit on the head at St. Louis Wednesday night, and Bob Elliott of the Boston Braves, injured at Philadelphia Wednesday, were out of action yesterday.

Pete Castiglione filled in for Rojek, getting three hits, as the Pirates lost to the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-2. Alpha Brazle, ace of the Card staff at the moment, copped his second straight. The lefty set down the Pirates with eight hits.

Elliott's place was taken by Connie Ryan, who contributed two hits in Boston's 6-1 romp over the Phillies. Vern Bickford allowed only three hits, all singles, in outpitching Jocko Thompson.

Brooklyn bombed the New York Giants, 15-2, moving into a first place tie with the Braves. While the Dodgers ripped the Giants pitchers to shreds, Ralph Branca doled out only four hits for his third straight win. Branca was in trouble in the early innings due to wildness, but escaped disaster.

An eight-run blast in the sixth inning, including a pair of homers by Mike McCormick and Roy Campanella, each with two on, did the trick.

Frank House Hot as Flint Tips Jets, 10-6

(By The Associated Press)

Flint, the 1948 pennant-winner, and Charleston, a newcomer, stood today as the undefeated members of the Central league just starting its second season.

The Arrows now have two victories in as many nights of play after taking Grand Rapids' Jets for the second time Thursday, 10 to 6.

Charleston, rained out on opening night, got its campaign off to an auspicious start last night by walloping the Saginaw Bears 11 to 5.

In last night's other contest, the Muskegon Clippers evened their score with Dayton by beating the Indians 7 to 5.

Detroit Tiger bonus catcher Frank House was a hero of the Flint victory. He got two resounding triples and a single in four times at bat.

Gehrmann Anchors Four Relay Teams In Drake Classic

Des Moines, April 29 (AP)—Don Gehrmann set out on the heroic task of anchoring four Wisconsin teams as the 40th Annual Drake Relays opened today with perfect weather for record breaking indicated.

The two day track meet drew 1,876 athletes from 179 schools, 71 in the university and college divisions and the rest high schools.

The big team favorites are Wisconsin, Oklahoma A. and M., California, Michigan State, Missouri, and Texas A. and M.

Nine relay records are threatened. Gehrmann may figure in two of these, the university mile and two mile relays.

One star was struck from the entry list. Michigan State withdrew its ace, Fred Johnson, because of a sore leg. Johnson, the National A.A.U. broad jump champion who twice has hit 25 feet this spring, was a favorite in this event and in the low hurdles.

The St. Louis Cardinals will conduct a mass training camp at Albany, Ga., next spring, with 400 players from 13 farm teams in action.

Groth Paces Hitters With A Lusty .471

Tiger Rookie Gets 2nd Grand Slam Homer

Detroit, April 29 (AP)—Hard-hitting Johnny Groth, sensational Detroit Tiger rookie, retained first place among major league hitters today partly on the strength of another grand slam homer.

Groth hit the four-run homer and a long single yesterday to run his batting average up to .471 while the Tigers were bowing 9-6 to the St. Louis Browns.

His healthy batting average put him 42 points ahead of Red Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cardinals and Willard Marshall of the New York Giants, each of whom has a .429.

Groth was in a three-way tie with Jackie Graham of the Browns and Junior Stephens of the Boston Red Sox for the lead among American league home run hitters. Each has four.

The 22-year-old Groth led the majors in runs batted in with 17 and was tied for second in hits with 16 to the 17 collected by Alvin Dark of the Boston Braves.

St. Louis, which had lost seven straight games before it opened the two-game Tiger series Wednesday, walloped four Tiger pitchers for 15 hits.

The defeat was especially tough for the Tigers for they had a 5-1 lead in the fourth inning on Groth's base cleaning four-bagger.

ALMA WANTS WIN

Alma, Mich., April 29 (AP)—Alma college is still looking for its first baseball victory after losing 8 to 5 to Michigan Normal yesterday. Normal now has three wins in a row.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS

"It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

Stephen Fisher, young Gould City baseball player, was doing all right in Texas until management difficulty broke up the touring ball club with which he was performing and he grabbed the next train home.

* * *

He left Gould City last Feb. 12 for Hot Springs, Ark., where he attended Roger Hornsby's baseball school for six weeks. At the conclusion of this school, Fisher was one of a few selected to play with the Longview, Texas, team.

* * *

We quote from the Longview paper anent Fisher's feats in intra-squad competition during the tryouts:

* * *

"Steve Fisher, who joined the team Monday, was the only member to collect more than one blow. An outfielder who played second base, he had a perfect day with two singles in as many trips to the plate." And again: "Fisher's two safeties gave him a total of five hits in six times at bat in three intra-squad games."

* * *

After two weeks in Longview, he hooked up with the Cuban All-Stars (Fisher is one of Mackinaw county Cubans, you know) and things were going fine until the management folded up in Austin, state capital of Texas. Fisher said it was too bad, too, because they were doing well and getting $200 a month to live on.

* * *

It was a good start, and Fisher may make another. In the meantime, he'll probably occupy a position in the Gould City garden.

* * *

Cuff notes: John Groth has two grand slam homers to date . . . The major league record for the season is four, held jointly by Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Rudy York, Vince DiMaggio and Frank M. Schulte, the latter of the old New York Giants . . . In regard to Curly Lambeau's "Wild West Show" (Tom Stidham, Jack Jacobs and Bob Snyder are part Indian), Hugh Fullerton, jr., AP scribe, says if the new combination doesn't win, the fans will likely give Curly back to the Indians.

Escanaba Ping Pong Champions Crowned

Art Petersen, Jerome Bessone, Merton Jensen, Jim Gravelle, Carol Camp, Donna Blixt are singles champions and Bill Dufour and Jim Tobin are the men's and boys' doubles titlists in the city ping pong tourney which was concluded last night at the Escanaba recreation center.

Bob Dufour bowed to Petersen in three straight in the men's singles finals. Bessone tipped Duane Brown, 21-17, 21-16, 18-21 and 21-19 to cop the boys' intermediate. Jensen topped Steve Piche, 21-18, 21-16, 19-21, 21-17 to take the boys' junior championship, and Gravelle nosed Bob Monson, 21-19, 21-18 and 21-16 for the boys' junvenile title.

Carol Camp beat Patsy Kidd to win the girls' junior, and the girls' intermediate went to Miss Blixt with a 21-19, 21-18, 21-16 win over Marilyn Alsten. There were no senior women's entries.

Semifinal men's doubles matches were won by Bessone and Petersen over Bob Dufour and Ken Dufresne and Bill Dufour and Tobin over Jensen and Clayton Lindquist, and in the finals the Dufour-Tobin duo came from behind to win, 21-19, 21-17, 18-21, 16-21 and 17-21.

The tourney was sponsored by the Escanaba Lions club under the supervision of the city recreation department.

3,000 Athletes in Fast Penn Relays

Philadelphia, April 29 (AP)—More than 3,000 spiked-shoe athletes from 500 schools and colleges converged on Franklin Field today for the opening of the University of Pennsylvania's 55th two-day relay carnival.

Before New York University toes the mark in defense of its mile relay title at 5:40 p. m. tomorrow, champions will have been crowned in seven other baton and 11 individual events.

Al Renfrew, captain of Michigan's NCC championship hockey team, lives in Toronto. He scored 25 goals last season.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Batting

Ted Williams, Red Sox—Led Boston to 12-5 romp over Philadelphia with perfect day at bat, including his first 1949 homer.

Pitching

Ken Raffensberger, Reds—Shut out Chicago with seven hits, 2-0.

POLLY RILEY LOSES

New Orleans — Defending champion Polly Riley, of Fort Worth, Tex., was beaten, 3 and 2, in upset by Betty MacKinnen, Mt. Pleasant, Tex. in quarterfinals of Women's Southern Golf Association championships.

Kansas City Tops AA in Attendance

(By The Associated Press)

The American Association attendance trophy belonged to Kansas City today, although Indianapolis dimmed the luster of the Blues' home opener before 14,620 fans by snaring a 13 to 6 baseball decision.

Kansas City had a bulge of 554 over Columbus' figure in its home opener yesterday.

In other games yesterday, league-leading St. Paul won its sixth straight game in downing Columbus 2 to 1. Milwaukee trounced Toledo 9 to 1, and Minneapolis nipped Louisville, 4 to 3.

Milwaukee pounded four Toledo pitchers for 14 hits, including homers by Damon Phillips and Jim Gleeson, to thwart the Hens, 9 to 1. Hank Perry pitched the route for the Brewers, scattering nine hits.

KIRK VS. LENCZYK

Pinehurst, N. C.—Peggy, Kirk, Findlay, Ohio, and Grace Lenczyk, Hartford, Conn., reached finals of Women's North and South Championship Tourney. Miss Kirk beat Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, 1 up, while Miss Lenczyk defeated Marjorie Lindsay, 1 up in 19 holes.

IN MEMORIAM

To the beautiful memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Christina Peterson, who passed away two years ago today, April 29, 1947.

Loving and kind in all her ways,
Upright and just to the end of her days;
Sincere and true in her heart and mind,
Beautiful memories she left behind.

Sadly missed by her children,

CLARA PETERSON,
MRS. ED. WIESE,
OSCAR PETERSON,
WILLIAM PETERSON.

8020-119-1t

In loving memory of our beloved husband and father, who died three years ago today, April 29, 1946.

Peacefully sleeping, resting at last,
The world's weary troubles and trials are past.
In silence he suffered, in patience he bore,
'Til God called him home to suffer no more.

Sadly missed by

Wife, Mrs. Alice DeRouin,
Mrs. Charles Johnston,
Mrs. George Cholger,
Arthur, Jr., Marilyn and Johnny.

Man Most Dangerous Enemy Of U.P. Forests; Causes 85% Of Fires

Period Of Fire Hazard At Hand, Public Warned

The opening of trout fishing season today heralds the season when large numbers of people will begin frequenting the out-of-doors—and by their carelessness cause most of the forest fires this year.

The match discarded without breaking, the cigaret tossed to the ground and left smoldering, the campfire not extinguished—these are among the principal forest fire causes. Add to these the fires started in lumbering operations, in land clearing, by railroad engine sparks and you find that 85 per cent of all fires in the Upper Peninsula last year were man-caused.

Not to be overlooked is the work of that peculiar individual known as the "fire bug" whose pyromania resulted in 10 known incendiary fires in the U. P. last year.

Fires starting from natural causes—lightning—accounted for only 72 of the total 564 fires in '48, placing most of the forest fire responsibility squarely upon the careless human.

Fires Cost Money

"Everybody loses when timber burns" was once a popular slogan in Michigan. It is equally applicable today.

The conservation department reports that last year—a year favorable to fire control—a total of 4,640 acres was burned over in the Upper Peninsula causing damage estimated at $35,134.06. Add to this the state's cost of suppressing fires — $74,497.10 — and the out-of-pocket cost is increased considerably.

Not to be overlooked is the unestimated cost: The destruction of wildlife, the unsightly damage that "blights" a forest area as effectively as does a slum in the city.

The earlier season this year together with water levels that are now below the average for the past several years has brought predictions of increased forest fire hazard this year. Trout fishermen will find streams near mid-summer levels—and the fire hazard almost as high as summertime.

You Should Know

Everyone who goes into the out-of-doors should observe those few simple rules that will help reduce the toll of forest fires:

1—If you are a smoker make sure your match, your cigaret, your cigar are completely out before discarding them.

2—Extinguish that campfire with water and never leave it unattended.

3—Get a permit from conservation officers before attempting to burn brush or grass.

4—In times of high fire hazard observe the no-smoking, no-campfire emergency order.

Indicating the prospect of worse forest fire conditions this year is the report from the Escanaba district headquarters office. Last year there were 124 fires in the Delta - Marquette-Alger district. There have already been 29 fires so far this year, of which 24 were in Delta county.

Men and Machines

In the year 1908 more than 2,000,000 acres of forest lands were burned over in the Upper Peninsula. In 1910 the Northern Forest Protective association was organized through the cooperative efforts of large timber tract owners. A fire fighting organization was set up and was immediately effective in reducing forest fire damage.

In 1917 the Public Domain Commission took over most of the forest fire control work, relinquishing that task to the Michigan conservation department in 1923. Since 1923 the state has spent $638,177.50 for fire fighting equipment, and today Michigan is recognized nationally as one of the leading states in modern forest fire fighting methods.

Today the state's forest fire fighting forces in the Upper Peninsula are headed by John Anguilm of Marquette, fire technician. In his organization are 60 conservation officers, 36 fire officers, 17 equipment operators and 62 towermen.

Towermen are the "eyes" of the forest fire fighting machine. Perched in their towers from 9 a. m. until 6 p. m. they detect the fires and report their location.

Checked While Small

State fire fighting equipment has largely been replaced since the end of the war. There are new stake body trucks, heavy pickup trucks equipped with pumps and tanks, new portable pumps, new small tractors for plowing and new bulldozers. A radio equipped airplane aids in spotting fires and directing crews to proper places of attack on fires.

The majority of fires that occur are extinguished while small. This is the result of a policy of "hit 'em quick—and hard."

State crews in this way extinguish fires that in the old days would have gone out of control and burned for days over thousands of acres. Yet even now, when winds are high and forests tinder dry, civilian labor and private equipment must be occasionally recruited to put out the big fires.

Helping Prevent

Through an education and supervision program the fire fighting forces attempt to prevent fires before they start.

Conservation and fire officers check all slash areas and maps are prepared during the winter months that will aid fire crews to most readily reach any point in the area. Crews of logging operators, construction jobs, mills and other industries play an important part in the suppression of fires by cooperating in fire prevention measures, and in helping out with men and equipment when fire strikes.

To further the effectiveness of prevention and education, a campaign is conducted to better acquaint the people with the losses suffered by forest fires. Talks to organizations, posters along roads, appeals by radio and newspaper—these and other methods are used to spread the message that "everybody loses when timber burns."

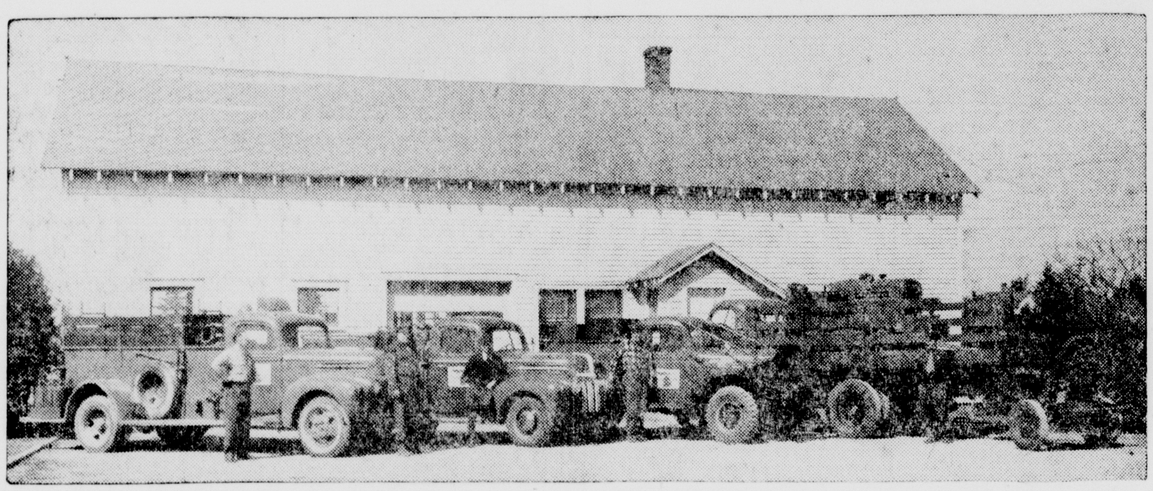

Fishermen who purchase their license receive the warning in print on the fishing regulations booklet, "You pay when forests burn," they are advised—pay as taxpayers, as citizens, sportsmen and lovers of nature.

STAMP IT OUT! — That carelessiy tossed cigaret is one of the chief causes of forest fires. Nearly one-half of all fires in the U. P. last year were caused by smokers.

FIGHTING FIRES IS COSTLY—No matter how you look at it, forest fires cost money. There is the loss in timber and soil resources, and there is the cost of maintaining an adequate fire fighting organization so those losses will not be greater. Pictured is one of pumper trucks from the Escanaba headquarters of the conservation department extinguishing a springtime grass fire along a roadside—probably started by a carelessly discarded cigaret.

THE MODERN FIRE BRIGADE ON WHEELS — The day of the hand shovel and back-breaking toil has not passed in forest fire fighting. But modern equipment augments the strong back techniques. Lined up for inspection this spring at district conservation headquarters in Escanaba are some of the mechanized aids: Fire trucks, booster units, pumper trucks, power wagons, tractors and plows. This is only part of the equipment, for it is scattered among 13 zones in the district that includes Delta, Marquette and part of Alger county.

MONEY SAVING IS DISCUSSED

Babson Explains Views On Thrift

By ROGER W. BABSON

Oklahoma City, Okla.,—In a recent column I questioned the good old New England habit of teaching children to save only MONEY. As this advice has caused much criticism, let me explain my ideas.

Children should, of course, be taught to save. Saving is a very important habit—like honesty, industry and temperance. All these are habits formed in childhood. They largely determine one's future success. In fact, those who, each month, spend less than they earn and properly invest the same are almost sure to become employers; while those who, each month, spend all they earn, will always remain employees, working for someone else. I also believe in teaching young people to tithe for church and charity.

Where I differ with certain readers is concerning WHAT TO SAVE. After our child's toy bank gets full of nickles and dimes, shall he be taught to take it all to a local Savings Bank or to wisely invest part of it in "good furniture, good books and good common stocks?" For an adult, I also recommend properly located fertile land as the best investment of all. I believe in a reasonable amount of the cheapest life insurance, bought for insurance only and known as "Term Renewable". I believe that children should be taught to buy good furniture in their teens and not wait until they are married. I believe that practical, higher education which will teach young people to become experts in some profession, in secretarial work, in merchandising, or in general business is a very profitable investment for one's savings.

What About Common Stocks?

Most of my critics object to my recommendation that children be taught to buy "good common stocks." Let me earnestly defend this advice. I see very little difference in buying good land or in buying good stocks. In either case you get only a piece of paper for your money. With the land purchase this paper is called a "deed", while with the stock purchase it is called a "certificate". In both cases, the price fluctuates and the income is uncertain; but both should average out better than "money wrapped in a napkin" which someday may have very much less purchasing power.

Many good common stocks sell for a few dollars per share. After the child saves this amount in the toy bank he may well be taught to buy an interest (real ownership) in some company making a product with which the child is acquainted. Then, when he eats or wears or uses the product he can honestly tell his playmates that he is one of the part owners of the concern! After the child saves ten dollars, it might be well for the parent to add something so the child can buy a share of stock in a local bank, or the local public utility, or one of the local chain, variety or grocery stores.

If you wish to teach your children the importance of diversification, you can buy a share in one of the more conservative Investment Companies, whose stocks are quoted each day in leading newspapers and sell for only a few dollars per share. There are many good companies of this type. I am personally acquainted with the management of three of these; viz. of Keystone Custodians, of Incorporated Investors, and of Massachusetts Investors. All of these have their headquarters in Boston. If you have only a little money, instead of putting it all into one factory, one store, or one railroad, you can buy stock in a mutual or "co-operative" company which hold stocks in perhaps one hundred different companies, in all of which you could have an indirect interest.

Training In Investing

My main appeal is that parents start early to teach children not only to save, but to wisely invest in: (1) a small bank account; (2) a little life insurance; (3) some furniture which will be worth more 11 years hence; and (4) surely some stock in good local companies. Begin with one share selling at a few dollars. Such a program should be good for your children, for the parents, and for the nation as a whole.

No home or business owners ever become communists! Besides, the trouble with the Truman plan to re-distribute the wealth is that he does not tell the people in what to put their increased wages. Hence, too much of this increase now goes into gambling, liquor, entertainment, and other harmful or wasteful things. To make a re-distribution of wealth stick and be useful, we should be taught, when children, in what to safely invest.

Nudity On British Stage Is Deplored

London, April 29 (AP)—Far too many naked women appear in British shows, the public morality council complained today.

And furthermore, said its annual report, "it is hard to see where any line can be drawn unless the exhibition of nudity be totally prohibited."

The Lord Chamberlain's department, which censors British entertainment, is guilty, said the council, of "disastrous toleration of nudity on the stage."

The council, a private group backed mainly by churches, said such toleration "has had the inevitable effect" of multiplying the number of undressed girls on the British stage.

MAYOR FOR 12 YEARS

Grand Rapids, April 29 (AP)—George W. Welsh, the only mayor many of Grand Rapids' younger citizens have ever known, begins his 12th consecutive year in office next week.

OSBORN WILL FILED

Sault Ste. Marie, April 29 (AP)—The will of the late Gov. Chase S. Osborn was filed late Tuesday at the office of Probate Judge Violet B. Vail, by Paul L. Adams, Sault attorney. Twenty-eight heirs are named in the will, all of them members of the family and servants of Gov. Osborn.

Governor Backs Up Democrats In Filibuster Move

Republicans finally called a halt and ordered their own caucus. They emerged with a counter strategy which involved sending one Democratic bill at a time back to committee. They were measures which had been advanced for votes.

As a Democrat arose to stall the proceedings, a Republican would get up and move another Democratic bill back to committee. The Republicans with 61 votes easily sent them there.

Meanwhile, midnight came and with it another legislative day. Thus the bills ready for a vote were automatically on the floor, despite the Democratic opposition.

When the 2 a. m. recess came, Democrats with pet bills up for a vote were beginning to sweat as they watched the Democratic bills one by one being sent back to committee.

Among the nearly 100 measures still hanging fire for votes or debate on the calendar were the Republican proposal to increase the base maximum unemployment compensation payment from $20 to $24 and a bill to supplant the sales tax on used cars with a three per cent use tax on all sales.

Earlier, the House had approved bills to:

Permit women owners and their daughters to tend bar in larger cities.

Encourage counties to increase local support of county libraries.

Prohibit suspension of subdivision restrictions by planning commissions in certain cases.

License and control the sale of insecticides.

Mile-Long Resort For Negroes Picked On Lake St. Clair

Detroit, April 29 (AP) — A group of Detroit Negro business and professional men today announced plans to develop a mile-long Negro resort on the Canadian shore of Lake St. Clair.

Retired Heavyweight Boxing Champion Joe Louis is a member of the syndicate negotiating for purchase of the property from a Detroit family.

The site is near Stoney Point, three miles east of Belle River, Ont. It will be known as "Canadian Riviera," according to the group, and will become one of the Negro showplaces of America. The property consists of 150 acres and a nine-room house.

Irving Roane and John White, co-owners of the Gotham Hotel here, said the syndicate has put up 60 per cent of the purchase price and expects to close the deal by May 10.

Logger Found Dead In Horse Barn At Rock River Camp

Munising, April 29—John Albert Jones, about 60 years of age, of Trenary, was found dead in a horse barn at a logging camp in Rock River township, it was reported this morning.

Jones was an employe at the logging camp operated by Vernon Richmond. He was found by a fellow employe, Junior Johnson. Death was caused by a heart attack, it was reported.

The body will be taken to Rogers City, Mich., where Jones has relatives. Funeral services will be conducted there.

Four Cases Heard By Appeal Board

The Escanaba city zoning board of appeals in regular meeting yesterday at city hall approved three applications and denied a fourth for special exceptions to the zoning ordinance.

Approved were applications of George Snyder, 1215 11th avenue south, to build within six feet of a west property line, permitting kitchen entrance step construction; Walter Nelson, 1222 11th avenue south, to construct a greenhouse for plant growing as a hobby, no commercial use allowed; and Mrs. Gust Gustafson, 532 North 18th street, an addition to the present house structure.

Denied was the application of Harold Meiers, 421 South 13th street, to enlarge a garage building. The application was denied because the area covered by buildings on the lot already exceeds the percentage permitted under the ordinance.

The ordinance limits building on residential lots to not more than 30 per cent of the total lot area.

The board of appeals is composed of Art Jensen, chairman, Chris Nicholson, W. P. Schuldes, Clint Dunathan, and L. J. Jacobs.

Boyne City Woman To Be 105 May 7

Boyne City, Mich., April 29. (AP)—Plans were being made today for a May 7 celebration here which grows in significance each year—the observance of Mrs. Mary Morgan's birthday. She will be 105 years old.

The aged colored woman, who came to the wilderness here with her husband when there was only one other resident in the area, expects to be joined by 60 members of her family for the traditional open house festivities.

Mrs. Maria Molloy Dies In Florida

Mrs. Maria L. Molloy, 91, a former resident of Ishpeming and a member of a well known Upper Peninsula family, died April 21 at the Nursing Home in Pensacola, Florida, where she had been a patient since June of 1946. Previous to that time she had been living with her daughter, Mrs. Mrs. Maria Chamberlain in Pensacola.

Services were held in Ishpeming and burial made in Ishpeming cemetery.

Mrs. Molloy was born in Collinsville September 16, 1858, her father, Asa Williams, a pioneer settler for whom the village of Lathrop was named. She had lived in Ishpeming since 1884.

Surviving are three daughters and a son, and two sisters, Mrs. Cora L. Hayward of Escanaba and Mrs. O. L. Molloy of Lathrop.

Legislators to Ban Old Well Menace

Lansing, April 29. (AP)—The Michigan House of Representatives wants no Kathy Fiscus episode in Michigan.

It lifted a bill requiring covering or fencing off old wells out of its place on the bottom of a long calendar and passed it unanimously yesterday.

The sponsor, Rep. Robert J. Chase (D-Flint), sought to name the measure the Kathy Fiscus act, but was ruled out of order. A legislative rule forbids naming legislation for anyone but legislators.

Kathy Fiscus died when she fell into a well near her California home early this month. The rescue attempts drew world-wide attention.

Taft-Hartley Law Outright Repeal Refused By House

Washington, April 29 (AP)—The House refused emphatically today simply to repeal the Taft-Hartley law and go back to the original Wagner Labor Relations act.

The proposal was made by Rep. Marcantonio (Al-NY), but was voted down.

The roll call vote aaginst it was 275 to 37.

The House got around to its first votes after four days of debate on a new labor law.

U.S. Forest Service Officers Warn About Fires This Weekend

Pointing out that more than 85 per cent of fires in the nation's forests are caused by human carelessness, officers of the U. S. Forest service headquarters in Escanaba today warned fishermen and others planning to be in the woods this weekend to be particularly careful about causing fires.

Hundreds of anglers will be on streams in the Upper Michigan National forest with the opening of the Michigan trout season tomorrow, and because of the expected increased number of persons in the woods this weekend, the Forest service, which administers the Hiawatha and Marquette forests, is issuing a stern warning.

The woods are "fairly dry" today, and the forest fire danger is increasing, it was pointed out.

"No rain" is the forecast for tomorrow and Sunday, a condition which makes the situation even more acute.

Fishermen, picnickers and others are warned strongly about smoking and camp and picnic fires. Smokers are asked to be sure cigars and cigarettes are extinguished completely, beyond any doubt whatsoever, before being discarded.

Matches used to light cigars, cigarettes, pipes and camp or picnic fires should be held in the hand until cold and then broken as an additional safety measure before being thrown away.

Airlift Into Berlin Costs $149,664,200 In First 10 Months

Washington, April 29 (AP)—Operation of the airlift into Berlin during the first ten months has cost the United States $149,664,200, Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa) said today. There is talk now it may not be needed much longer, that the Russians may end their land blockade of Berlin.

Van Zandt, a member of the House Armed Services committee, provided figures for the congressional record showing this cost breakdown:

Operation, $45,825,100; support, $57,370,700; reserve, $28,958,700; wrecked planes, $7,522,000, and depreciation of aircraft, $9,987,700.

During the first 10 months Van Zandt said, 319 air force and navy planes assigned to the operation completed 120,377 flights and carried more than 1,250,000 tons of food and supplies.

As of April 25, 1949, he said 28 planes had been wrecked and 22 air force fliers killed.

In support of the airlift, he said, the U. S. army of occupation spent, as of March 31, 1949, approximately $7,000,000 for food, supplies, transportation and other items.

Stop Secrecy Leaks, Armed Forces Told

Edict From Capitol Hill Tightens Precautions

By ELTON C. FAY

Washington, April 29 (AP)—Spurred by a sharp order from Capitol Hill, the armed forces have issued mandates to all their military and civilian personnel to guard against "leaking" secret information to the public.

The formal instructions have been issued separately at different times during recent weeks by the Air Force, Navy and Army.

The most recent, an Army circular, appeared today.

Signed by Gen. Omar Bradley, Army chief of staff, it directed that the statement of Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the House Armed Services committee "be brought to the attention of all military and civilian personnel." It then carried the text of Vinson's statement.

In the statement, Vinson noted that on March 12 he initiated an inquiry "into allegations that the department of the air force was intentionally 'leaking' highly classified military information to the press on the B-36 bomber and other matters." A report was submitted to the committee, said Vinson, which showed he leaks "have not been officially inspired by the air department." But he continued:

"The Armed Service committee wants it clearly understood that if persons in the armed services or in their employ continue to pass statements to the press which are calculated to depreciate the the activities of a sister service and which at the same time jeopardize the national security the committee will step in with a full scale investigation. We will not tolerate the cintinuance of this practice."

Ambassador May Save Injured Eye

London, April 29 (AP)—United States Ambassador Lewis Douglas went to his office in London today for the first time since he snagged his left eye with a fishhook April 4.

His eye is still bandaged. His doctors said Wednesday they had real hope of saving the sight of the eye.
